LexisNexis® Hosted FYI for Litigation Review

LexisNexis Hosted FYI, an on-demand, case-by-case offering from LexisNexis Hosted Litigation Solutions, helps make it possible for you to perform your document review without a costly investment in IT infrastructure, software, training and staff. With Hosted FYI your firm benefits from:

- Secure Access to your environment via the Web. Easily manage discovery documents by leveraging the Concordance® review platform.
- Robust Security employing leading perimeter and back-end network security, firewall and intrusion detection systems. Maintains ultra high-speed Internet connections, co-location facilities and terabytes of scalable disk storage.
- Skilled Project Management and Product Support teams who work with you throughout the life of the case and are available to help with emergencies 24/7. LexisNexis handles the application support.
- Reliable Data Management where all documents are tracked through the Hosted FYI chain of custody process.
- Effective Disaster Recovery ensuring your team can be up and running quickly in the event of a major disaster.
- Excellent Data Capacity and Processing with processing systems that can convert thousands of documents every hour. Also gain the ability to add storage as you need it—while only paying for what you use.

Virtual Litigation War Room from LexisNexis®

Collectively manage your workflow and critical case knowledge all in one place with a virtual litigation war room from LexisNexis® Hosted Litigation Solutions. Integrate your case data and litigation software in one collaborative environment. With a case-by-case customizable virtual litigation war room your firm benefits from:

- Risk Reduction with all systems and processes fully managed and monitored by LexisNexis, including hardware, software, data backup and replication, network management, and production and operational support.
- Fiscal Responsibility with hosting costs that are fully recoverable, so you can share costs among multiple firms. Flat fees for data hosting ensure there will be no hosting charge surprises.
- Control of Data that is yours. Upload only the data pertinent to your case. Additional storage is available to you when you need it, while you pay only for what you use.
- Product Support at the application layer that is the firm's responsibility. LexisNexis can provide additional support as needed.
- Litigation Support on Demand with experts available to support your team as needed with services that include project management, collections and processing of prediscovery and discovery documents.
- Flexible Environment that can be customized with the addition of tools such as Concordance, CaseMap®, TextMap®, and TimeMap®, as well as data storage based on the needs of your case.
