As anyone who has worked on an e-discovery project will tell you, no two cases are the same. In order to manage your project, you need the tools to manage the specific needs of your case. The experts at LexisNexis® Applied Discovery® understand and have added new functionality to its award-winning Online Review Application to address your needs.

Custom Case Administration

Case administrators now have the ability to assign specific functional access rights to individual reviewers and run their own reports all from within the ORA.

- Manage User Access
- Assign Functional Access Rights to Individual Users
- Track Document Behavior
- Assign Privilege Codes
- Administrative Reports

Customized Review Options

Case administrators are given unparalleled flexibility in their ability to set customized database options that enforce case-wide business rules and better reveal the nature of individual discovery requests.

- Manage Default Settings
- Manage Bulk Tagging
- Access to Enhanced Applied Discovery Resources

Native File Review

We don't publish a list of our clients. Someone else does it for us.

The e-discovery choice for the nation's top law firms and corporations.

LexisNexis®
Applied Discovery®

Reviewers can review select major document types in their native format in order to reveal particular areas of interest, such as formulas in Microsoft® Excel® spreadsheets and embedded comments in Word documents.
