The LexisNexis® Total Research System...
Your Solution for Managing Labor & Employment Law Research

The diversity of your Labor/Employment law practice often demands a broad range of research solutions. The LexisNexis Total Research System provides the comprehensive umbrella of resources and tools you need to help clients:

• comply with regulations;
• present their case before governmental agencies;
• successfully defend their business in litigation;
• negotiate labor agreements; and
• manage their corporate employment responsibilities—everything from updating personnel policies to writing executive compensation plans.

Stay current on cutting-edge labor and employment issues with the latest case law, administrative rulings and news releases. Plus rely on the most up-to-date commentary and analyses from prestigious publishers like Matthew Bender®, CCH® and BNA®.

This guide is organized around the issues labor practitioners research often. For each topic, find a list of highlighted sources and research examples to illustrate how you can use that vital source to your best advantage.

There’s more. Also find a complete list of sources available through the Labor & Employment Area of Law at www.lexis.com and a comprehensive list of LexisNexis print and CD-ROM sources for Labor & Employment practitioners.

Under the Other Resources section, you’ll discover how LexisNexis report products make compiling people, company and industry information a one-search task.

LexisNexis® Report Products

One search + Many Sources = One Integrated Report on People, Companies or Industries

Save valuable research time and budget. Each LexisNexis Report Product searches multiple LexisNexis services’ resources simultaneously and then automatically compiles one, easy-to-review report for you to review. Take a look at the available LexisNexis report products and their applications:

LexisNexis® Company Analyzer
Designed for due diligence, one LexisNexis Company Analyzer search covers nearly 40 vital legal, news, business, public records and intellectual property sources. You can set the document retrieval limit up to 250 documents per source for thorough coverage. Check more than 10 million public and private companies, including some international companies.

LexisNexis® Company Dossier
Currentness is key for LexisNexis Company Dossier. Covering more than 20 million public and private companies, your Company Dossier reports cover current finances, executives and operations. You can also compare up to five companies’ current finances side by side, and compile lists of companies with criteria you select, including sales, revenue, city, number of employees, etc.

LexisNexis® Industry Dossier
While Company Dossier covers companies, LexisNexis Industry Dossier covers more than 1,000 U.S. industries. Each report offers a list of top industry performers along with current industry economic and sales reports, recent mergers and acquisitions and pending legislation that could affect the industry. View side-by-side comparisons on sales for the top 20 companies in an industry.

LexisNexis® SmartLinx Reports
Based on a check through more than 1.9 billion public records, LexisNexis SmartLinx reports show you the connections among people, business and locations. It’s the report tool to use when you’re trying to uncover a chain of ownership, a pattern of movement or a personal/business history based on public records like assets ownership, bankruptcy filings, verdicts and settlements, judgments/liens, white pages records, etc.

LexisNexis® CourtLink® Strategic Profiles
Strategic Profiles are based on the vast CourtLink database of federal civil court docket records covering 10-20 years of cases. Litigators can argue more effectively by studying litigants’ case histories, opposing counsel arguments and pleadings a judge found compelling. Law firms and other businesses can pinpoint business opportunities and risks, bolster hiring practices and prevent and detect fraud.
