SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This microfilm publication from University Publications of America (UPA) documents relations between the White House and the media during the Vietnam War era, revealing how the White House attempted to create and control a favorable perception of the war by the media and the public.

Six major groups of records were selected for filming from the holdings of the Lyndon B. Johnson Library in Austin, Texas: National Security File; Office of the President File; Office Files of George Christian, press secretary and special assistant to the President; Office Files of Fred Panzer, White House staff member and "polls person"; Office Files of Marvin Watson, special assistant to the President; and Meeting Notes File (Presidential). Unless otherwise noted, all the unclassified and declassified (open) material in each folder listed in the Reel Index was filmed in its entirety.

National Security File

The National Security File (NSF) was the working file of President Johnson's special assistants for national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy and Walt W. Rostow. Documents in this file originated in the offices of Bundy and Rostow and their staffs, in the various executive departments and agencies, especially those dealing with foreign affairs and national defense, and in diplomatic and military posts around the world. Although the National Security File is arranged into several series, this project only includes those with portions relevant to the media and public support for the war: NSF, Vietnam Country File; NSF, Name File; NSF, Files of McGeorge Bundy; and NSF, Speech File.

The NSF, Vietnam Country File contains memos, cables, intelligence reports, correspondence, and special studies. Subject files included in this publication are listed below.

2. News Media Coverage, 1967-1968 (Boxes 97-99)
3. Public Relations Activities, 1967-1969 (Boxes 99-101)
4. Congressional Attitudes and Statements, 1966-1968 (Boxes 102-103)

7. Why Vietnam (Box 194)
8. Arthur Dean Committee (Box 195)
9. Public Affairs Policy Committee (Box 197)
10. The Quayle Report (Box 213)

The NSF, Name File contains memos from the President's national security staff and White House aides, arranged alphabetically by author. Staff files selected for this publication are:

1. Cater Memos (Box 1)
2. Cooper Memos (Box 2)
3. Colonel Ginsburgh Memos (Box 3)
4. Jordan Memos (Box 5)
5. Roche Memos (Box 7)
6. Ropa Memos (Box 7)
7. Rostow Memos (Box 7)

The NSF, Files of McGeorge Bundy, maintained by Bundy for his personal use, includes cables, memos, and correspondence from and to the President, various executive departments and agencies, and diplomatic and military posts around the world. These files also provide reports and studies on various issues and crises. The files selected for this publication are:

1. "Non-Speech on Vietnam" (Box 17)
2. Vietnam Speeches (Box 17)
3. Public Opinion (Box 17)
4. Teach-In (Box 18)

The NSF, Speech File includes foreign policy speeches by President Johnson, arranged chronologically, from 1964-1966. Also in the Speech File are memos, speech drafts, and press releases. The speech files used in this project include:

1. State of the Union Address, 1966 (Box 4)
2. Speeches on Vietnam, 1963-65 (Box 7)

The State of the Union Address, 1966 was not filmed in its entirety. Only portions, memos, and press releases relevant to the Vietnam War were included. The Speeches on Vietnam, 1963-65 were filmed in their entirety.

Office of the President File

Correspondence, memos, and reports used by the President and his special assistants were maintained in the Office of the President. This publication utilizes the files of McGeorge Bundy, 1964-1968 (Box 1) and John P. Roche, 1966-1968 (Box 11).

Office Files of the White House Aides

Materials gathered and utilized by White House aides in their day-to-day operations were normally kept in the aides' offices and were not sent to be filed in the White House Central Files. These files consist of correspondence, memos, and reports relating to the issues and problems on which an aide was working.

While the aides had various duties throughout the Johnson Administration, selection of their files for inclusion in this project was based on the aide's role in reporting to and advising the President on White House activities pertaining to the public perception of the war and the creation of favorable media coverage of the war. Papers of selected key aides are: George Christian, press secretary and special assistant to the President; Fred Panzer, staff member of the White House ("polls person"); and Marvin Watson, special assistant to the President.

The selection of individual files (folders) was based on their relevance to the issue of Vietnam, the media, and public support for the war. These files include polls, correspondence, reports, and speeches by the White House and various executive departments, congressional correspondence and committee reports, and correspondence, memoranda, and reports from private individuals and organizations.

George Christian files (folders) selected include:

Meeting Notes File

This file includes notes on 160 White House meetings, briefing papers, correspondence and memos. The White House meetings were attended primarily by the President and his foreign policy advisors, and more than a third dealt with some facet of the Vietnam War. From these notes, files were selected dealing only with media correspondence. Folders of transcripts and briefing papers are from Box 3, Meetings with Correspondents, February 1967-May 1968.

All of the materials appearing in this publication were filmed as they are arranged within each folder at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library, i.e., in reverse chronological order. The current microfilming procedures of the Library require UPA to film not only the document withdrawal sheets (which indicate that a document has been withdrawn from the file), but also the entire open contents of a folder. UPA has complied with these procedures.

The Library has provided UPA with its latest search of its records for material relevant to this project. The Library also has its own finding aid for material on the war, entitled Materials Available for Research on the Vietnam War, May 1983.

The editor would like to extend his appreciation to the staff at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library for their assistance with this project.
