

Martindale-Hubbell® martindale.com® Experts & Services

Legal experts, consultants and service professionals for every legal matter

For more than 140 years, Martindale-Hubbell® has been relied upon as the authoritative resource for information on the global legal profession to identify and evaluate lawyers. Through martindale.com® Experts & Services, it's also the legal community's most comprehensive and widely used online guide to more than 100,000 legal experts, consultants and other service professionals.

Uncover the right resource for your matter

Intuitive, simple search functionality for fast results—With martindale.com® Experts & Services, finding the right expert or consultant for your matter is quick and easy. Guided navigation lets you begin your search by category. Start with a broader area, such as medical experts and consultants; investigators and process servers; court reporters; or attorney and litigation support professionals. Or, narrow your search to very specialized categories.

Advanced search for greater control—You can also start with an advanced search, choosing one or more criteria such as firm name, state, country, category or keyword. Then, refine your search results by specialty, narrow them further by location and sort them even further by zip code.

Detailed profiles to inform your decision—Experts & Services profiles include detailed information about certifications, past experience, credentials, education and contact information to further perfect your decision making process.
