

Don't miss critical cases with Shepard's® Citations Service

"Lexis Advance makes searching and Shepardizing easier than ever"

– Law Student, Austin, TX

Be confident you're citing good law in your assignments with Shepard's®.

Be sure your case is good law with Shepard's

Shepardizing™ is easier than ever with Lexis Advance™ tabs that organize Shepard's reports into three distinct parts—Appellate History, Citing Decisions and other citing references.

Start with Shepard's Signal™ Indicators

Quickly see how closely you need to scrutinize a case and which part of the Shepard's report contains the most serious analysis with Shepard's Signal indicators.

-  WARNING: Negative treatment is indicated

-  WARNING: Negative case treatment is indicated for statute

---

-  QUESTIONED: Validity questioned by citing references

---

-  CAUTION: Possible negative treatment

---

-  POSITIVE: Positive treatment is indicated

---

-  NEUTRAL: Citing references with treatment is available

---

-  CITED BY: Citation information is available

NOTE: To help you quickly get to the most important analysis of your case, Shepard's Signal indicators appear in the tab where the most serious analysis occurs.

Lexis Advance tabs quickly guide you through a validation check

Step #1, Appellate History: this tab displays the litigation chain of your case. Use the Map button to quickly see your case's path through the courts.

The appellate history map provides a graphic depiction of:

1. Your case's path through the courts, including both prior and subsequent decisions.
2. How your case was affected by prior and subsequent decisions (e.g., Reversed by).

Step #2, Citing Decisions: this tab lists all the cases citing your case by the type of analysis. If your case is “Questioned by” or “Followed by” another case, you’ll see it here.

Narrow by... filters: provide a quick summary and efficiently narrow your Shepard’s report to the most relevant citing decisions.

- Analysis: narrow your report to a specific analysis phrase(s) (e.g., Distinguished by).
- Court: narrow your report to cases from a specific court(s).
- Headnotes: narrow your report to cases discussing an issue from a specific headnote(s).
- Terms within results: narrow your report to a specific term(s) relevant to your research.
- Timeline: narrow your report to cases from a specific date range.

The screenshot shows the LexisNexis interface for a Shepard's report. The main window displays 'Citing Decisions' for the case 'World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson'. A 'Narrow by...' dropdown menu is open, showing various filters. The 'Analysis' section includes 'Questioned(3)', 'Caution(128)', 'Criticized by', 'Positive(1,254)', 'Neutral(240)', 'Cited in Dissentin...', 'Explained by', 'Cited in Concurrin...', 'Harmonized by', and 'Cited in questiona...'. The 'Court' section includes 'Federal Courts(6,765)', 'U.S. Supreme Court', '3rd Circuit', '7th Circuit', '5th Circuit', and '10th Circuit'. A 'Terms within results' widget and a 'Timeline' widget are also visible.

Finding More Cases

Shepard’s also ensures you haven’t missed any important cases by making it easier to see additional cases on your legal issue.

The Narrow by... filters let you quickly narrow a Shepard’s report to the cases that follow your legal issue by combining the Analysis, Headnote and Terms within results filters.

Only Shepard’s identifies the cases that follow yours with the “Followed by” analysis phrase.

This close-up shows the 'Narrow by...' dropdown menu. The 'Positive(1,254) Followed by 1,254' filter is highlighted with a red box. Below it, other filters are listed: 'Neutral(240)', 'Cited in Dissentin...', 'Explained by', 'Cited in Concurrin...', 'Harmonized by', 'Cited in questiona...', 'Same case at', and '"Cited by"(7,792)'. A 'Select Multiple' link is visible at the bottom of the dropdown.

Finding more secondary sources

The third tab at the top of every Shepard's report identifies all the other sources citing your case:

- Law review articles
- Treatises
- Annotated statutes
- Court documents
- Restatements
- Miscellaneous secondary sources

The Citing Law Reviews... tab efficiently organizes these sources so you can quickly filter the ones most relevant to your legal issue. You can combine the Content, Terms within results and Timeline filters to effectively narrow your results and find additional on-point secondary sources.

The screenshot shows the LexisNexis interface for a Shepard's report. The top tab is "Citing Law Reviews, Treatises... (6677)". The main content area lists several law reviews and treatises, including "ARTICLE: A Personal Jurisdiction Dilemma: Collateral Attacks on Foreign Judgments in U.S. Recognition Proceedings" and "ARBITRAL & JUDICIAL DECISION: RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN ENFORCEMENT OF ARBITRAL AWARDS AGAINST AN INSTRUMENTALITY OF A FOREIGN STATE: THE ENERGY v. STATE PROPERTY FUND OF UKRAINE". The sidebar on the left has a "Narrow by..." section with the following filters:

- You've Selected: Law Reviews (Clear all)
- Analysis: "Cited by" (1,313) (Select Multiple)
- Content: Law Reviews (1,313) (Select Multiple)
- Terms within results: (Empty field, OK)
- Timeline: (Timeline graph from 1978 to 2011, 1978 To 2011 OK)
