

1  legal writing

2  legal research

3  read cases

4  brief cases

5  outline cases

What to learn before starting law school

We asked 400 law students 4 questions and these were their top 5 responses. Do these and you'll be better off from day 1!

"Study, study, study, and study smart – meaning learn how to outline and prepare for class early on."

TOP 20 things you need to know about law school

"Develop good writing skills and the ability to synthesize large amounts of data into concise sentences."

"It is absolutely critical to excel in your first year of law school. If you are in the top 5% of the class, the choice is yours as far as career opportunities."

"Having a work/life balance is very important. Take advantage of networking and participating in externships, moot court, and other job opportunities."

1  legal research

2  draft memos

3  network

The most important thing you'll do in law school

4  create outlines

5  law review

1  reading

2  writing/grammar

What's important for success in law school

3  drive to achieve

4  networking

5  life balance

What's fun about law school

1  friendships

2  moot court

3  meeting experts

4  reading=NOT

5  exams=NOT