People Category

Basic information about individuals, including addresses, phone numbers, full dates of birth and Social Security numbers.

Businesses Category

Various business searches are available within the Business Category, such as Corporation, UCC Filing, Dun & Bradstreet, and Delaware Corporation Searches. Public records available for businesses, including business locator and secretary of state filings, FBN's and FEIN numbers.

Best Practices

Why do we conduct a Business Search?

- Locate a business using a company name, business phone or FEIN.
- The search may return business-related information from all states including related business names and FEINs as well as address and phone information.

Assets Category

Property, vehicles, watercraft and aircraft information.

Licenses Category

License information, including DLs and state professional licenses – another source of person locator information.

Best Practices

Why do we search Professional Licenses?

- People who need licenses in order to work in their profession will make sure that information is up-to-date.
- Many different states and types of licenses are covered. It is important to click the “coverage” button in order to know what licensure information is covered in which state.

Phones Category

Phone look-ups and reverse phone look-ups in real time.

Courts Category

All court documents, including civil filings and criminal records.

Best Practices

Why do we conduct a Courts Search?

- Court records assist in your efforts to find additional information to verify a person or a business.
- Court records include a variety of search options including bankruptcy, criminal records, civil records, OFAC records, sexual offender information, foreclosures and much more.

Person Search

Perform a Person Search

If you know the subject's Social Security Number (SSN), use it alone in your first search. Searching on a SSN gives you a chronological list of addresses for an individual and any name variations or aliases.

There are no required fields, so you can start searching with whatever piece(s) of information that you have. The amount and type of information that you enter will affect the results that you retrieve.

If you are unsure of the spelling of a person's name, check the Include name variations checkbox to search for variations of the subject's name if no exact match is found.

The screenshot shows the 'People' search interface within the 'My Accurint' application. The top navigation bar includes 'My Accurint', 'People', 'Business', 'Assets', 'Licenses', 'Courts', 'Phones', and 'Healthcare'. Below this, a sub-menu contains 'Advanced Person', 'Person', 'Virtual Identity', 'People At Work', 'Death Records', 'Real-Time Person Search', and 'More Searches'. The main search area features several input fields: 'Last Name', 'First Name', 'Middle Name', 'LexIDSM', and 'SSN'. There are also checkboxes for 'Include name variations' and 'Include Bankruptcies'. Address-related fields include 'Street Address', 'City', 'State', and 'Zip'. Other fields include 'County', 'Radius', 'Phone', 'DOB', and 'Age Range'. A 'Reference' field is located at the bottom left. On the right side, there are 'SEARCH' and 'CLEAR FORM' buttons, along with 'Coverage' and 'Help?' links. A disclaimer note states: 'Important: The Public Records and commercially available data sources used in this system have errors. Data is sometimes entered poorly, processed incorrectly and is generally not free from defect. Read More'.

Tip

Additional Features

Radius field - Use this field to help focus on a geographical area of interest. Research suggests that most people move within a 50 mile radius. The radius feature allows you to search for a person within a 99 mile radius of an address.

Coverage - Click Coverage on any search page to show the state and county coverage areas for each particular data source, keeping you more focused and efficient in using the service.

Help - Click Help on any search page to provide additional search instructions and/or search tips to help generate the best results.

Person Search Results Overview

- Name, address and telephone numbers are displayed with the most probable current address at the top.
- A check mark indicates the most probable current address. This means that two or more sources have verified the address.
- The dates provided are ranges and are to be used as a guide.
- A D indicates a person is deceased. Place your mouse over this indicator to view the date of death.
- A Flag indicates caution.
- Click the See Examples link to view a sample of each report offered.

Next Steps

Offers other avenues to uncover information including Relatives (1st degree matches), Neighbors, Associates (linked to the person via two shared common addresses), or a combination of all three. Next Steps also allows you to search for People at Work records for your subject.

Tip

Too Many Records Found

If too many records are found, the following message displays, “The search you have requested resulted in over 1000 matches.” Try adding criteria including Phone Number, Date of Birth and Age Range.

Best Practices

Why do we search by Social Security Number?

Since ideally each SSN is connected to a single person, it is the best way to search for an individual.

search by data other than a Social Security Number?

- More than one person may be attached to a SSN, either through fraud or mistake.
- A young person, a new citizen, recent older widows who relied heavily on their husbands’ SSNs, and others with thin files may not have much information under their SSNs.
- A Sr./Jr. situation may result in the father’s and son’s information getting confused.

look up an address, even if it is old?

- An old address may lead us to a current address.
- Searching by an address will give you not only the subject, but others who have lived or are currently living at the address. These may be great contacts.
- If the person is renting, looking up an address (especially in property deeds) will give you the landlord’s name and information. They are another great contact.
- When a checkmark appears next to an address, it indicates that data was found in the database as of that day, indicating with a high level of confidence a “right-party” contact.

Advanced Person Search

The screenshot shows the 'Advanced Person Search' form within the Accurint interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs: 'My Accurint', 'People' (highlighted in red), 'Business', 'Assets', 'Licenses', 'Courts', 'Phones', and 'Healthcare'. Below these are sub-tabs for the search type: 'Advanced Person', 'Person', 'Virtual Identity', 'People At Work', 'Death Records', 'Real-Time Person Search', and 'More Searches'. The form includes several input fields: 'Last Name', 'First Name', 'Middle Name', 'SSN', and 'LexIDSM'. There are also checkboxes for 'Include similar sounding names' and 'Strict Search'. Address fields include 'Street Address', 'City', 'State', and 'Zip'. Other fields include 'Phone', 'DOB', and 'Age Range'. A section titled 'Additional Subject Information' contains fields for 'Other Last Name', 'Other City', 'Other State', and 'Other State'. Below that are 'Relative First Name' and 'Other Relative First Name' fields. A 'References' field is at the bottom left. On the right side, there are 'SEARCH' and 'CLEAR FORM' buttons, along with links for 'Coverage' and 'Help?'. A disclaimer note states: 'Important: The Public Records and commercially available data sources used in this system have errors. Data is sometimes entered poorly, processed incorrectly and is generally not free from defect. Read More.'

Perform an Advanced Person Search

Sometimes it is necessary to search on a deeper level to find your subjects. We have made that search easier with Advanced Person Search. This Search allows you to include additional information about your subject, such as a relative name or previous state of residence, or even use partial information you may have, to more accurately pinpoint where they may be currently located.

- Search using your subject's name and the first name of a relative. For example, if you are looking for John Doe and you know he has a relative with the first name of Jane.
- Search using your subject's name and include a name they may have previously used or may be currently using. For example, Jane Doe may have previously been known as Jane Smith.
- Search using your subject's name and state of residence as well as any previous state or states (maximum of two) in which they may have resided. For example, Jane Doe in Florida who previously resided in Connecticut and Rhode Island.
- Search using your subject's name, city and state and include the name of another city and state in which they may have lived. For example, Jane Doe in Sunrise, Florida, and Tallahassee, Florida.
- Search using your subject's name and the last four digits of their Social Security Number. For example, Jane Doe and 1234. You may even use a partial first name.

LexisNexis® LexIDSM

LexisNexis® LexIDSM automatically analyzes billions of records and quickly identifies and connects relevant information using a secure (non-Social Security based number) and unique 12-digit identifier. LexIDSM is also more secure than a Social Security number because it cannot be misused in order to commit fraud. It may potentially return more records than are returned in the original search using first name, last name, or date of birth. The result is a complete picture of an individual, leading to more accurate, timely and informed decisions.

Best Practices

Why Do We Use Advanced Person Search?

- Advanced Person Search allows you to search by LexisNexis® LexIDSM, a unique, 12-digit identifier which can more closely indicate who your subject is than a Social Security Number. The LexIDSM number only pulls records associated with a single individual. It may potentially return more records than are returned in the original Advanced Person Search using first name, last name, or date of birth. LexIDSM is also more secure than a Social Security Number because it cannot be misused in order to commit fraud.
- Entity roll up provides a person's names, aliases, associated SSNs, addresses and phone numbers in one area.
- Icons for property ownership, motor vehicle registrations, criminal records and phones plus records display which can provide additional information.

Real-Time Person Search

Search using Last Name, First Name and State. You can also add criteria, such as Middle Name, DOB, City, Zip Code or Age Range to help you refine your search.

Click on Information Icons for additional tips.

Utilize the Phonetic Search capability to look for phonetic variations of the subject's name if you cannot find an exact match or if you are unsure of the spelling of a person's name.

The screenshot shows the 'Real-Time Person Search' interface within the Accurant system. The top navigation bar includes 'My Accurant', 'People', 'Business', 'Assets', 'Licenses', 'Courts', 'Phones', 'Healthcare', and 'AVMS'. The 'People' tab is active. Below the navigation, there are several tabs: 'Advanced Person', 'Person', 'People At Work', 'Death Records', 'Real-Time Person Search', 'Instant ID', and 'More Searches'. The main search form contains the following fields: Last Name, First Name, Middle Name, and SSN; Street Address, City, State, and Zip; DOB and Age Range; Additional Subject Information (Other Last Name, Other City, Other State, Other State); Relative First Name and Other Relative First Name; a 'Phonetic Search' checkbox; and a 'References' field. There are 'REPORT' and 'CLEAR FORM' buttons on the right side of the form. A disclaimer on the right states: 'Important! The Public Records and commercially available data sources used in this system have errors. Data is sometimes entered poorly, processed incorrectly and is generally not free from defect. Read More'.

Best Practices

Why Do We Use Real-Time Person Search?

- This search provides the most up-to-date information available using real-time access to live data.
- The results are derived from continuously updated national databases containing more than 215 million consumers.

Real-Time Person Search Report

- Advanced searching using SSN and telephone number to identify potential places of employment.
- Search results include name of the business and address information. It also includes phone numbers and titles when available.
- Review the company name and date range to assist in determining the employment status of your subject.

Best Practices

Why do we run a search in People at Work?

- Locating a current or previous employer can give contact information to further locate a person.

Phones Category

Phones Plus

Phones Plus locates unlisted and unpublished phone numbers, in addition to cell phone numbers. Search Phones Plus using these best practices:

- Reverse address matching
- 7 and 10 digit reverse telephone searching
- First name and last name searching

Phones Plus can include Directory Assistance listings with advanced searching.

Best Practices

Why do we conduct a search in Phones Plus?

- Phones Plus gives a user access to over 25 billion cell and unlisted numbers in addition to electronic directory assistance.
- A user can start with a name or a number.
- The carrier and location of the service are also listed.

Reverse Lookup

Reverse Lookup allows users to match an existing telephone number to a potential subject or address.

Basic Lookup

Basic Lookup includes Directory Assistance searching using:

- Reverse phone look up (7 and 10 digit)
- Reverse address look up can include ex-roommates, parents, etc.

Limits searches to return results only on residences or only on businesses, or both.

Canadian Phones

Canadian Phones search includes all 10 provinces and 3 territories.

Locate the subject using a variety of search criteria including the 10-digit or 7-digit (without area code) phone number, subject's name and address combinations, and address only searches.

Real-Time Phones Search results may include Subject Name, Address, Phone Number, Source Type, Time Zone, Carrier Name, as well as Carrier City and State.

Best Practices

Why do we conduct a Real-Time Phones Search?

- This search provides additional real-time phone source information on over 115 million wireless numbers and detailed information of carriers that can be used for investigative purposes.
- Search results include phone type, phone status, carrier details, and porting indicators which help you and your agency contact the appropriate operating company for case investigations, including subpoenas when necessary.

Reports

- Reports take the information from a specific subject's record and run that information through every available source.
- When ordering a report from a Search Results page, click on a report icon displayed near the subject's data. Choose the result record that displays a Social Security Number.
- Reports provide further detail on the target subject or business and may identify: related public records, business profiles, contact individuals, associated individuals and entities.
 - Finder Report: May provide two degrees of relatives with an address summary, phone summary, and bankruptcy information.
 - Comprehensive Report: May provide three degrees of relatives, liens and judgments, criminal records and professional licenses.
- Click Save Report for later access to save results prior to clicking on Request Report.

Best Practices

Why do we run a Report?

- Different types of reports can provide a great deal of information all at once.
- Some users prefer to run reports rather than do individual searches on each piece of information found in the report. This is particularly true when they need large amounts of information on a debtor or the debtor has a particularly high balance.

Tip

Sample Reports

From a Search Results page, click the See Examples link to view a sample of each report offered.
