VET CITES AND QUOTES WITH SHEPARD'S® BRIEFCHECK™

Lexis Advance® keeps evolving to meet your needs. It's in our DNA.

You keep growing professionally—adding new skills and deeper knowledge—to offer more value to your clients. We keep making research more flexible and powerful to help you deliver on that promise. Here are the latest enhancements to the Lexis Advance service:

Added Document Flexibility

Now you can use the Shepard's® BriefCheck™ service to check citations and quotations in briefs, memoranda and more, right from your Lexis Advance research session. And use Shepard's® BriefLink, also recently added to Lexis Advance, to add links from the citation to full-text authority.

Check citations and quotations in briefs, motions and pleadings faster without leaving Lexis Advance. Access BriefCheck™ from the Lexis Advance Research pull-down menu.

Review the BriefCheck video and see the product in action.

Find Shepard's BriefCheck on the Research pull-down menu.

Upload a brief, and with the convenient, wizard-like interface shown below, choose your tasks, and BriefCheck can:

- Validate citations through Shepard's® Citations Service. The BriefCheck service generates a concise citation summary report tagging problem areas for your attention.
- Verify quotations and deliver a QuoteCheck™ report validating quote accuracy.
- Retrieve the full text of documents cited. Check each of your case-law citations (case name, parallel citations, jurisdictions, court and date) against the same information in Shepard's Citations Service.

More Search Power

Use an expanding collection of segments to search specific document parts. And check archived code coverage—quickly and easily.

Search specific document parts, including these new options: Find the right facts faster by targeting additional highly relevant document parts or segments. Now search source-specific segments like Byline for news and legal news articles and Headnotes for case law to zero in on the documents you want. We've also added these new segments to Advanced Search Forms and provided full segment searching capability for all Archived Content.

Newly available segments in Lexis Advance:

Content Type/Subtype	New Segment(s)
Administrative Materials	Headnotes
Cases	Headnotes
Legal News	Byline, Department, Length*, Ticker
Mergers and Acquisitions	SIC
News	Byline, Length*, Ticker
SEC Filings	Address, Form, Form-Type, SIC, Ticker

*The Length segment will be available in Advanced Search Forms later this summer.

For more information, read Searching Document Segments.

Check the coverage dates of archived codes before you search. The date range of archived code coverage can vary by content type and jurisdiction. Now see available archived coverage. Select the Archived Codes pod on the Lexis Advance home page and click the “i” icon next to a content type before you search.

The screenshot shows the Lexis Advance Research interface. On the left, there's a search bar with the placeholder 'Enter search terms' and a 'Search' button. Below the search bar, there's a 'Narrow By' section with filters for 'Category' (Codes, Constitutions, Administrative Codes) and 'Date (Year Only)' (All available dates). The main content area shows the 'Archived Codes Coverage Dates for Codes' information window. This window contains a table with two columns: 'Jurisdiction' and 'Coverage Dates'. The table lists various jurisdictions and their corresponding coverage date ranges.

Jurisdiction	Coverage Dates
U.S. Federal	1992 - Current
Alabama	1991 - Current
Alaska	1991 - Current
Arizona	1991 - Current
Arkansas	1991 - Current
California	1991 - Current
Colorado	1992 - Current
Connecticut	1992 - Current
Delaware	1991 - Current
Dist. of Columbia	1990 - Current
Florida	1991 - Current
Georgia	1991 - Current

Date coverage ranges display in an information window.

Easier Results Review

The latest Lexis Advance enhancements will help you sort, navigate and deliver your results faster.

Want your results sorted a specific way—perhaps by relevance for cases, by date for news or by jurisdiction for secondary materials—every time? Now you can choose sort criteria for each content type. Choose once and that sort order stays, search to search and session to session.

Go to the Sort by: pull-down menu next to your results and select Edit Default Order. (Or start at the More pull-down menu on the black experience bar, select Settings and go to Default 'Sort by' Settings.) Either way, it's one and done. Select the pull-down menu for any available content type and save your changes.

Default 'Sort by' Settings

Content Type	Sort By
Cases	Court (highest) by date (newest)
Codes	Relevance
News	Relevance
Administrative Materials	Agency (A-Z)

Navigate search terms seamlessly from one document to the next. Select a search term or phrase from the Navigate all terms box at the top of your full-text document. Then use the Previous or Next arrow next to the box to navigate. When you reach the last occurrence of a term in your full-text document, click the Next arrow and move to the first occurrence in the succeeding document. (Click the Previous arrow and move from the first occurrence in a document to the last occurrence in the preceding document.)

The screenshot shows the Lexis Advance interface for a document titled "Metro. Stevedore Co. v. Rambo, 521 U.S. 121". The document is from the Supreme Court, dated June 19, 1997. The interface includes a search bar, a results list, and a document viewer. The document text is displayed in the main pane, and the results list is on the right. The document viewer shows the text of the document, including footnotes. The search results list on the right shows the document's position in the results list, with a "Next" arrow highlighted. The document text in the main pane includes a footnote that references "Pillsbury, 342 U.S. at 198-199".

Click the Next arrow at the last term hit and move to the first term hit in the next document.

Go back to the place in the results where you left off. Click Results list as you view a full-text document and return to your last position in the results list: top, middle or bottom.

Select or clear documents for delivery en masse and speed up your delivery. Click All to deliver all documents in the delivery tray or None to clear delivery choices.

One click selects all or clears all.

Faster Start to Research

Personalize your Practice Centers with movable pods. Beginning July 18, start faster by placing your favorite Practice Center content at the top of the screen—right in your sight line—the same way you can on your Lexis Advance home page. Just grab, drag and drop your Favorites, Key Topics, Top Sources and more.

More Must-Have Content

More comprehensive coverage for your topics. You can be confident in the depth and breadth of your search with newly added, trusted content.

- 300 additional back-of-the-book indices from top publications on Lexis Advance display as separate sources, i.e., via the Red Search Box, the Explore Content feature or Browse Sources. Select an index, then you can browse or search.
- 100+ additional company and financial sources from the lexis.com[®] service are available for you to browse and search.

Better Access Where You Work

You don't need apps to gain access to the Lexis Advance service via your tablet or handheld device, but our Apple® iPad® and Apple® iPhone® apps bring the mobile experience ever closer to your desktop experience. Here's what's new:

The Lexis Advance app for iPad now offers:

- Get a Doc Assistance Forms that help you retrieve documents by Citation, Party Name or Docket Number when you don't know the exact cite
- Additional document segments in Advanced Search Forms to help you target your search

With the Lexis Advance app for iPad and iPhone, users can:

- Search with additional segments from the Lexis Advance search box
- Reuse date search pre-filters from the Folders, History and Favorites you've created and saved in your Lexis Advance desktop sessions
