YOU ASK A QUESTION ... LEXIS® ANSWERS UNDERSTANDS IT

Using powerful machine-learning technology, Lexis® Answers at Lexis Advance® understands your question and anticipates your research path up front, making your research session faster and easier. The machine-learning technology behind Lexis Answers can suggest a natural-language question for you and delivers a clear, concise and authoritative answer plus comprehensive search results for deeper research.

More machine-learning features are in the LexisNexis pipeline, using the largest, richest reservoir of legal information available to make the Lexis Advance service smarter, so you cover more ground faster with fewer searches.

HERE'S HOW TO ASK LEXIS ANSWERS:

Just enter a key term indicating you are looking for—

- a definition
- elements of a claim or defense
- standards of review
- burden of proof
- a legal doctrine

Start entering your question into the Red Search Box. As you type, Lexis Answers understands your path and suggests questions. (You can begin with what is/are, but it isn't necessary.) You only need to enter:

1

ENTER

The type of answer you want, e.g., definition (or define, defining, defin!)

2

ENTER

Your research topic e.g., joint tortfeasor (or) injunctive relief

3

ADD

A state (optional), e.g., Ohio (or) OH

If you select a suggested question, your search runs automatically. Or, if you've entered your own search question, click the magnifying glass Search icon. To refine your search even further, enter a state or select a state jurisdiction from the pre-search filter pull-down menu before you click Search.
