LAW360® TAX AUTHORITY AND MLEX® U.S. TAX WATCH

Law360® Tax Authority

Law360® Tax Authority harnesses the powerful Law360® news engine to provide extensive coverage of federal, state & local and international tax developments, including legislation, regulation and enforcement, executive actions, and litigation. With Law360 Tax Authority, you'll have a clear edge.

Law360 Tax Authority employs a team of more than 30 seasoned journalists and tax experts in the U.S. and around the world to provide in-depth coverage. Dozens of stories in each issue offer a balance of straight news and much-needed practical analysis. Insights and articles from leading practitioners in tax—like state and local tax authority David Brunori—are also a standard feature.

For more than a decade, Law360 has provided breaking news, in-depth features and practitioner-written Expert Analysis articles on legal issues across major practice areas and industries. With over 1.2 million daily newsletter recipients, Law360 has become a trusted source for legal professionals, business leaders and government officials to maintain their expertise in an ever-changing legal landscape, delivering the most significant intelligence in a fast, conveniently curated and easy-to-use format.

MLex® U.S. Tax Watch

Produced by MLex®, a global business news subsidiary of LexisNexis®, MLex® U.S. Tax Watch is a biweekly journal featuring advance news, political analysis and investigative reporting to help tax practitioners understand important regulatory developments. It discusses policies, programs and personnel at the Internal Revenue Service, including the Treasury's tax policy office and the Department of Justice Tax Division. It also covers major federal court decisions that could result in changes in how tax laws are interpreted and enforced.

MLex U.S. Tax Watch brings together a team of seasoned reporters , including:

- Paul Merrion covered Dan Rostenkowski and the 1986 Tax Reform Act as Washington Bureau Chief of Crain's Chicago Business and its parent, Crain Communications Inc. He's also reported for Business Insurance, Pensions & Investments, covered data privacy and cybersecurity for CQ Roll Call and served as Senior White House Reporter for MLex before joining MLex U.S. Tax Watch.
- Kristen Parillo covered international tax issues for Tax Analysts® Worldwide Tax Daily® and Tax Notes International® and developed thought leadership for Ernst & Young's Business Tax Services sub-service line.
- Kat Lucero previously was a reporter for Tax Analysts® Tax Notes Today® as well as Bloomberg BNA and The Hill.
