

Transactional or Hourly?

Use the Right ID for Cost-Effective Research on the LexisNexis® Services

Know which LexisNexis ID is more economical to use based on your research needs.

Transactional IDs

✓ 100% Search-Based ✓ No Time Charge

Use this ID when time is not an issue; i.e., when you need to stay online seven minutes or longer to conduct and review research. Charges are incurred by each search request submitted rather than your online time.

Use your Transactional ID to:

- Run an initial search request with terms that are broad in scope, then use the FOCUS™ feature, at no additional cost, to narrow results to more precise answer sets.
- Browse your search results online without the pressure of time being spent.
- Retrieve documents using the Get a Document feature when you have citations.
- Shepardize® federal and state case-law decisions, statutory material, U.S. patents, and more. Narrow Shepard's® results by using Custom Restrictions at no additional charge.
- Use the CheckCite® software to automatically identify and verify all citations and quotes in a document.

Hourly IDs

✓ 100% Time-Based ✓ No Per-Search Charge

Use this ID when the number of searches performed is not an issue; i.e., when you need to perform a fair quantity of searches but you will not be spending online time to review your results. Charges are incurred by your time spent online rather than by the number of search requests submitted.*

Use your Hourly ID to:

- Quickly run three or more searches in 15 minutes.
- Produce lists of citations (bibliographic information only) rather than stay online to browse results.
- Conduct preliminary background research—public records and company information—when you do not plan to remain online for more intense investigation.
- Make changes to online features; e.g., selecting different options on the Preference template, rerunning a previous search request stored in the History archive, or editing an ECLIPSE™ search.

*A computer connection-time charge of $50 per hour will be charged per user.

Some sources may require a special subscription and/or are only available through a transactional ID. Please see your rep for more details.
