

Meet legal requirements, while reducing costs

LexisNexis® Legal Research Solutions for Pennsylvania Correctional Facilities

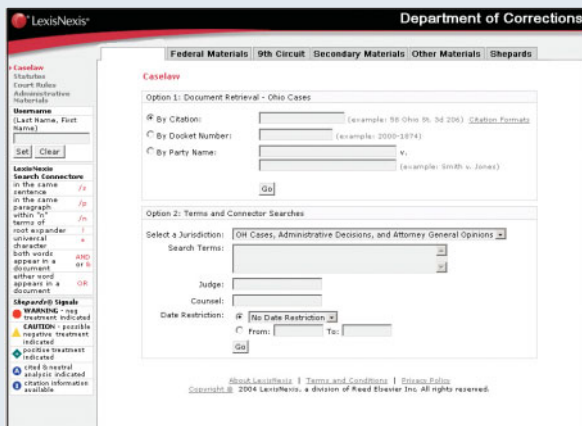

Providing the required legal research tools to inmates has been a costly and time-consuming task—until now. LexisNexis offers a range of low-cost, easy-to-maintain, and tailored solutions that provide inmates access to required legal research content and resources.

Online Through a PC

Access through LexisNexis research provides an easy-to-install and maintain option.* All that's needed is a PC and internet access. LexisNexis will work with you to ensure the maximum degree of security possible.

- No need to update content since it resides on the online system.
- Overhead costs for book replacements, copiers, administration, and litigation are drastically reduced.
- Training and tutorials for library staff and users are included with the system.
- The legal content can be customized for your needs.*

*For correctional facilities that choose an online research solution, the product offering must be approved by LexisNexis Security and Legal Departments.

Local DVD with Touch-Screen

Delivered through a kiosk, hardware, software, legal content, monitoring, maintenance and service are included for a low monthly payment and no up-front capital investment. The kiosk provides high security and a simple interface that people with no computer experience will find easy to navigate.

- Automatic content updates every 90 days ensure compliance with federal and state mandatory requirements.

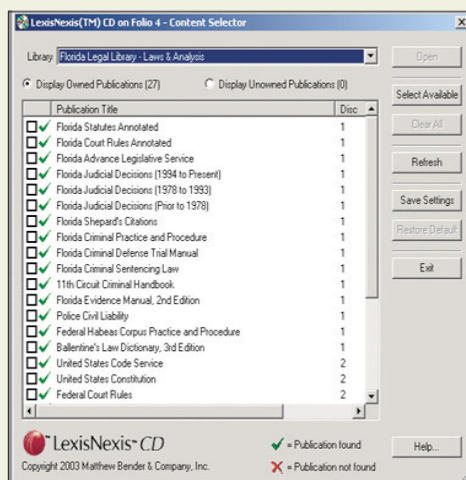

- Overhead costs for book replacements, copiers, administration, and litigation are drastically reduced.
- Training and tutorials for library staff and users are included with the system.
- The kiosks are break resistant and cannot be used as a weapon.
- The legal content can be customized for your needs.*

Choose the solution that is right for you

A LexisNexis account representative can help you evaluate your needs and choose a solution that best fits those needs, such as security usage and budget limitations. All the solutions provide a cost-effective means of meeting the requirements for giving inmates access to legal research materials. At the same time, users will often achieve thorough results faster than using books alone—a win-win situation for both of you.
