LexisNexis Tax Advisor – Federal Code

Unique features in an easy-to-use code service mean superior results.

With LexisNexis Tax Advisor – Federal Code, it's easy to find a code section, link out to relevant materials, and return to the section, without losing your place in the research process. Tax Advisor – Code offers an efficient method for conducting code-based research, with the following unique features:

Expert Opinions

Tap into the collective wisdom of more than 140 leading tax practitioners and professors by taking advantage of thorough explanations and analyses of IRC provisions. Plus, our Explanations sections include synopses and footnotes that allow you to find your answers faster. Bylines are also included with Explanations to provide pertinent information on the author.

Search Options

With Tax Advisor – Code, you can search in a variety of ways, including full-text, by code section or by terms in the Table of Contents. No matter which search method you select, you'll get the code sections you need, along with exclusive links to analytical materials and updates on recent developments involving a particular code section.

Superior Validation

Depend on Shepard's® Citations Service—available only on LexisNexis—for superior validation of cases, codes and rulings. Shepard's Signal™ indicators give an at-a-glance assessment of a particular document's validity.

Simple Navigation

The Tax Advisor – Code's left navigation pane facilitates the process of linking to related and interpretive materials, while viewing individual documents. Find IRC sections relevant to a particular tax issue and retrieve related regulations, legislative history, annotations, explanations, analysis and recent developments.
