

State Net® Legislative Outlook

Focus your time and effort on key bills most likely to move.

LexisNexis® State Net® now delivers legislative forecasting tools that allow subscribers to predict the likelihood of passage for each bill that is introduced. This enhancement helps you identify the legislation you should be paying attention to, understand the political factors that are impacting movement, and anticipate upcoming hurdles.

Predict the likelihood of passage for each bill that is introduced

The exclusive State Net® forecasting model is based on state legislative patterns and key prognosis indicators. The logic uses historical patterns for each state to predict future outcomes, including partisan breakdown, sponsor's influence, and 1st committee assignment. These legislative forecasts help you:

- Save time by ignoring distractions that aren't going anywhere
- Devote energy and resources to bills that will move
- Validate and verify information from other sources

Understand what factors are impacting legislative movement

Additional political intelligence and exclusive State Net content is also provided for each bill so you can make your own prognosis conclusions. Foresee future events and plan ahead with:

- Sponsor Success Factors: leadership positions, success ratings and cosponsor support
- Session status dates and upcoming deadlines for each stage of the legislative process
- Partisan breakdowns for each chamber
