

This is LexisNexis® Litigation Profile Suite

The comprehensive collection of data on experts, and insights on judge and attorney profiles.

Make your case. Know the key players and get to the right decisions sooner.
No question.

LexisNexis® Litigation Profile Suite is more than a collection of information—it's a whole new approach to gathering the critical intelligence and analysis you need to gain deeper insights into how an expert, judge or attorney will impact your case.

Within minutes, you can search through volumes of data to uncover and assess relevant, detailed information on key parties—all from one source. LexisNexis Litigation Profile Suite pulls it all together revealing a dynamic, graphical snapshot of past performance and patterns of behavior that can strategically influence your case. At any time, you can also go deep by drilling down into individual documents. Plus, it's easy to share the information by creating custom reports in seconds.

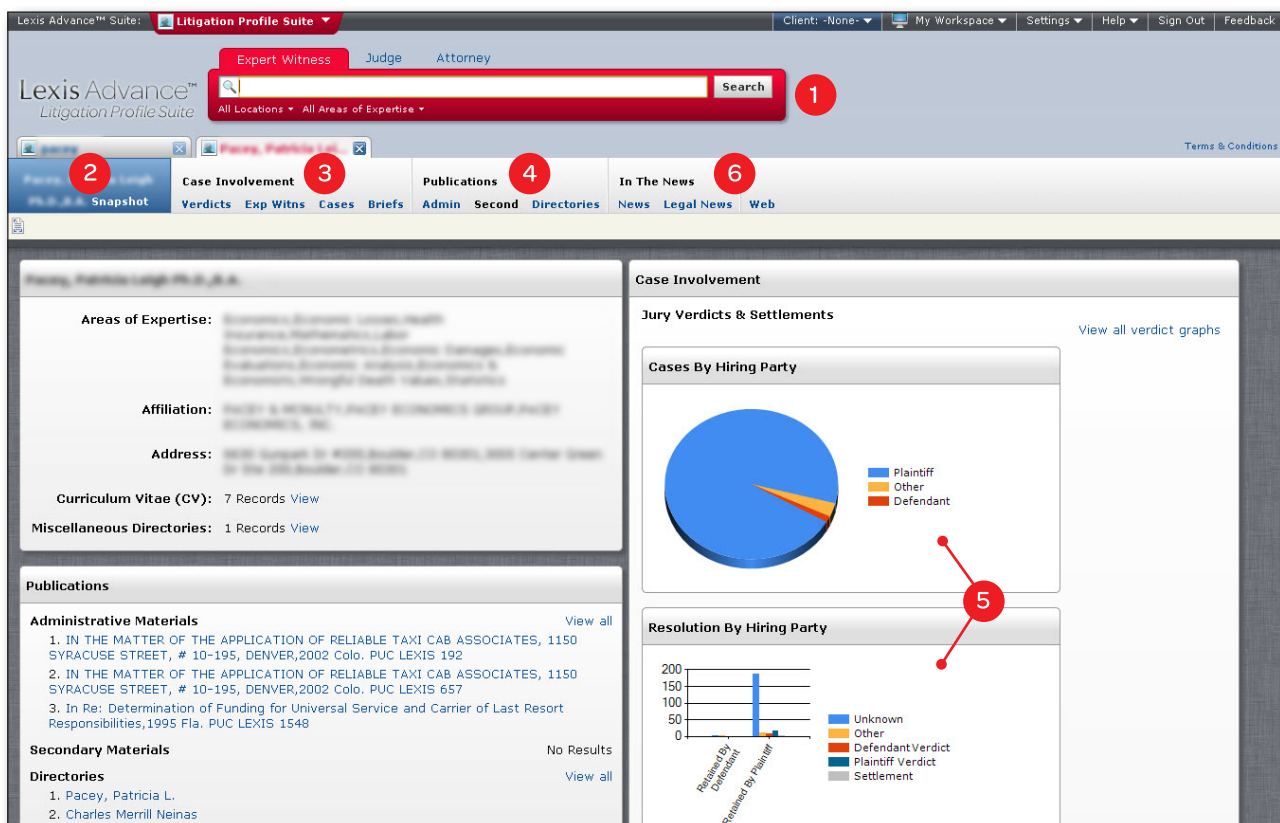

Get revealing, hard-to-find intelligence—all in just a few clicks.

- Information on more than 330,000 experts
- The largest collection of verdicts & settlements documents—over 70 percent more than the leading competitors*

*Comparison data based on information available as of April 2013.

The comprehensive collection of insights on expert witnesses.

Uncover their strengths and weaknesses as quickly and thoroughly as possible by accessing the largest, comprehensive collection of published and unpublished expert witness information available anywhere. You'll discover valuable intelligence, such as prior, contradictory statements; challenges to testimony and inconsistent or fudged credentials.

- 1 Search Bar: Simply type in the name to find information that's pulled together from across authoritative LexisNexis® sources.
- 2 Snapshot: Select Snapshot from the ribbon at the top of the profile to find quick links to the complete array of relevant information, such as jury verdicts and settlements, expert witness analysis, and briefs pleadings and motions.
- 3 Case Involvement: Tap into our extensive collection of court information, including verdicts, cases, briefs and more to learn about their past experiences and set your case strategy.
- 4 Vital Facts: Under the ribbon, you'll find information about an expert witness's current contact information, current position, education and more.
- 5 Easy-to-Read Graphs: Complex information can be easily evaluated at a glance for quick insights.
- 6 Easy-to-Find Sources: Select the type of information you want to see from the ribbon under the search bar—including Case Involvement, Snapshot, Publications, In the News and Lexis® Web.

Save time using our research service. Know the expert witnesses and be ready with LexisNexis® Expert Research On-Demand.

Within 24 – 72 hours of your request (rush service available), our team of research specialists will provide you with a comprehensive PDF report on your expert. No Lexis Advance® subscription? No problem. You don't need one.

Our LexisNexis Expert Research On-Demand service works with the comprehensive collection of insights on expert witnesses to help you find the right expert—or to prep your own before deposition or trial.

With LexisNexis Expert Research On-Demand, you can choose from a wide range of available services, including

- Testimonial history reports
- State license discipline searches
- Challenges-to-exclude-expert searches
- Transcript procurement
- And much more

Judge Profile: Determine the best way to present your case.

Because of the critical role judges play in litigation, gaining an understanding of their past ruling tendencies and experience in a particular area of law can play an important part in determining your strategy. The Judge Profile draws upon courtroom records, the news and many other resources to give you an in-depth picture that includes authored works, personal interests and much more.

The screenshot shows the Lexis Advance™ Suite interface for a Judge Profile. The top navigation bar includes 'Lexis Advance™ Suite: Litigation Profile Suite', 'Client: -None-', 'My Workspace', 'Settings', 'Help', 'Sign Out', and 'Feedback'. Below this is a search bar (1) with 'All Jurisdictions' and a 'Search' button. The ribbon (2) has tabs for 'Expert Witness', 'Judge', and 'Attorney'. The navigation bar (3) includes 'Ruling History', 'Publications', and 'In The News'. The main content area displays biographical information, a 'Cases Per Year' line graph (5), 'Cases by Practice Area' pie chart (5), and 'Motions Filed' pie chart (5).

- 1 Search Bar: Simply type in the name to find information that's pulled together from across authoritative LexisNexis® sources.
- 2 Snapshot: Select Snapshot from the ribbon at the top of the profile to find quick links to the complete array of relevant information, such as jury verdicts and settlements, dockets, cases and briefs pleadings and motions.
- 3 Ruling History: Tap into our extensive collection of court information, including verdicts, cases, briefs and more to learn experience, patterns and ruling tendencies.
- 4 Vital Facts: Under the ribbon, you'll find information about a judge's current contact information, current position, education and more.
- 5 Easy-to-Read Graphs: Complex information can be easily evaluated at a glance for quick insights.
- 6 Easy-to-Find Sources: Select the type of information you want to see from the ribbon under the search bar—including Snapshot, Ruling History, Publications, In the News and Lexis® Web.

Attorney Profile: Know what to expect.

Whether you're facing an attorney in negotiations or the courtroom, a quick check of his background can reveal information that used to be difficult to obtain. An attorney profile provides instant insight on an attorney's prior experience with similar lawsuits, areas of expertise, past verdicts and much more.

The screenshot shows the Lexis Advance Litigation Profile Suite interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with tabs for Expert Witness, Judge, and Attorney. Below this is a search bar (1) and a ribbon (2) with categories like Snapshot, Practice History, Publications, In The News, and Web. The Practice History section (3) is expanded, showing contact information (4) and two pie charts: 'Cases by Party' (5) and 'Cases by Jurisdiction'. The contact information includes telephone, address, email, and admissions. The 'Cases by Party' chart shows 'Unknown' as the only category. The 'Cases by Jurisdiction' chart shows 'US.DIS.NM' as the only category.

- 1 Search Bar: Simply type in the name to find information that's pulled together from across authoritative LexisNexis sources.
- 2 Snapshot: Select snapshot from the ribbon at the top of the profile to find quick links to the complete array of relevant information, such as practice history, briefs, pleadings and motions, and more.
- 3 Practice History: Pulls together relevant information from a broad array of court information, including verdicts and settlements, dockets and jury instructions.
- 4 Vital Facts: Under the ribbon, you'll find information about an attorney's current contact information, current position, education and more.
- 5 Easy-to-Read Graphs: Complex information can be easily evaluated at a glance for quick insights.
- 6 Easy-to-Find Sources: Select the type of information you want to see from the ribbon under the search bar—including Snapshot, Practice History, Publications, In the News and Lexis Web.

See for yourself! Go to www.lexisnexis.com/profilesuite.

Put the LexisNexis Litigation Profile Suite to work for you, and achieve efficient, cost-effective and successful litigation.. Contact us today at 1.888.253.3901.