

The Freedom to Collaborate LexisNexis CaseCloudSM

Successful litigation requires swift, seamless coordination and effective collaboration—often with co-counsel or other team members in offices hundreds of miles away.

That's why we created LexisNexis CaseCloudSM. CaseCloudSM is a secure, off-site data hosting service that lets you share key litigation data and documents with colleagues and co-counsel to build winning case strategies. You can even access case analysis, document review and discovery management software from LexisNexis[®] directly from the cloud.

Cloud Hosting from Legal Industry Professionals

Does your data-hosting service understand your business? LexisNexis has over 35 years of experience offering world-class legal research and hosting solutions to law firms just like yours. That's why we offer CaseCloud on a case-by-case basis. You only pay for the storage and capability you require for your current case.

Enhanced Collaboration: Work together seamlessly with co-counsel or remote team members in a secure, cloud-based “project room” that allows you to host case data as well as industry-leading LexisNexis case analysis, transcript management and discovery management tools.

Reduce Risk: Reduce your risk, as all systems and processes are managed and monitored by LexisNexis, including storage, hardware, data backup and replication, network management, and production and operational support. Application layer support is available on demand. Take advantage of our best-in-class data facilities that can help reduce the risk of interruptions to your business.

Fast, Agile Deployment: Depending on project scope, we offer 24 – 48 hour implementation times. We'll have your CaseCloud hosted environment up and running in no time.

Fiscally Responsible: Hosted litigation costs are fully recoverable, making cost-sharing among multiple firms easy.

Contain Costs: Flat fees for data hosting ensure that there are no surprises or hidden costs related to data-hosting services. Flexible contract options are also available.

Storage on Demand: Never get caught without sufficient server storage. As litigation continues to roll in, you can allot as much or as little storage as you need.

Powerful Security: We understand that security and confidentiality are vital to your reputation and success. Our Tier III+ enterprise networks and infrastructure give you the security you expect from a litigation hosting service.

Exceptional Customer Support: Get 24/7 support from skilled project managers and technical support professionals.

Litigation Support on Demand: Our experts are on call to support your team as necessary. Litigation services include project management and processing of pre-discovery and discovery documents.

Choose Your Tools

Get trusted LexisNexis software tools installed in your private cloud so you can gain control over your collaborative review and case analysis efforts—efficiently and securely. This helps you maximize your current investment with LexisNexis litigation solutions.

If you don't have LexisNexis software, the latest versions of Concordance® Classic (non-enterprise) and the CaseMap® suite are also available on demand. Pay only for what you use!

Products available in the CaseCloud environment include:

Concordance® discovery management software helps your litigation team search, review, produce and share the high volumes of litigation documents for more effective discovery.

CaseMap® case analysis software helps litigation teams bring together the relevant facts, documents, players and issues of each case—as well as legal and investigative research—into a centralized repository for improved case assessment.

TextMap® transcript management software enables you to uncover key testimony faster, collaborate more effectively with trial team members and summarize transcripts more effectively.

TimeMap® timeline graphing software transforms case facts into high-quality visual timelines in seconds, helping you visually understand, analyze and communicate the facts in your case.
