

The facts speak:
Here's why you should build your case with Shepard's®.

You need to be confident you've built your case and strategy on good law—that you've covered the right bases and compiled the most extensive, timely and relevant sources and critical insights available.

That's what you get when you turn to Shepard's®.

The facts speak: Here's why you should build your case with Shepard's® Citations Service.

You need comprehensive coverage and exclusive, powerful refining tools to help you validate your position and uncover additional support. Shepard's helps you:

(Click Get More for details.)

Uncover more analysis that's relevant to your legal issue

Find better support for your argument with Shepard's

Only Shepard's offers a full range of editorial analysis—positive treatment as well as negative analysis like Overruled and Distinguished. KeyCite® doesn't offer positive treatment.

Discover patterns in subsequent history you've never seen before

Shepard's Citing Decisions Grid charts vital history events so you can better determine if your point of law is still evolving. KeyCite has no such grid.

---

Count on authoritative analysis that reliably reflects court holdings

Experienced attorney editors read each case and make their assessments according to strict standards and guidelines. Editors map the history chain, and also provide headnotes written in the language of the court to ensure a true reflection of court holdings.

---

Bring the most valuable information front and center quickly

Know where to begin researching immediately

Navigation is designed to highlight the areas you need to investigate.

Surface the details you need easily from Shepard's reports

One-click filter choices let you bring negative—or positive—treatment to the top of the report.

Uncover direct relationships between your case and others in the history chain

See the direct path from a major citing event to your case so you can quickly focus on the cases you need to read.

---

See Shepard's features in action! View the short video

See what else Shepard's reports offer you.

The facts speak: Here's why you should build your case with Shepard's®.

YOU NEED TO:	Shepard's HELPS YOU WITH:
Navigate and understand your Shepard's report quickly.	Shepard's Signal Indicators (e.g., the red stop sign) and treatment phrases (e.g., Overruled) make it easy to see how your case is treated. Plus each citing case carries a signal indicator to show how courts have subsequently treated it. To get definitions of signals and phrases, click the Legend link on the right side of the report screen.	 Warning: Negative treatment is indicated The red Shepard's Signal™ indicator indicates that citing references in the Shepard's® Citations Service contain strong negative history or treatment of your case (for example, overruled by or reversed). Warning: Negative treatment is indicated for statute The red Shepard's Signal™ indicator indicates that citing references in the Shepard's® Citations Service contain strong negative treatment of the section (for example, the section may have been found to be unconstitutional or void). Questioned: Validity questioned by citing reference. The orange Shepard's Signal™ indicator indicates that the citing references
Find references to more analysis than can help you build your arguments.	Citing Law Reviews, Treatises ... This tab on your Shepard's report brings you insights from hundreds of law reviews, treatises, statute annotations, constitutional amendments, motions, etc.	 Citing Law Reviews, Treatises... (55)
Ensure the authorities on which you built your case are still good law.	Shepard's® Table of Authorities Click the Table of Authorities tab ... no extra search needed. Look at the subsequent histories of the cases your case cited. Determine quickly if the value of these "underpinning" cases have eroded.	 Table of Authorities (17)
Determine if the citing reference is relevant to your research.	The block of blue text below the citing case is the first reference or citation to your case to help you determine relevance before reading more.	 United States v. Taylor ▲ 179 Fed. Appx. 957, 2006 U.S. App. LEXIS 12840 Overruled as stated in: 179 Fed. Appx. 957 p.961 On the basis of this reasoning, we concluded that theft f at 924 (overruling United States v. Lee, 22 F.3d 736)
Determine if the case discusses the legal issue in the headnote you're following.	Click the headnote link, e.g., HN 16, in your Shepard's report and move to the first discussion of your headnote issue in the citing case.	 4th Circuit - Court of Appeals 1. ■ Followed by Duke v. Uniroyal, Inc. ▲ 928 F.2d 1413, 1991 U.S. App. LEXIS 5171, 56 Empl. Prac. 816, 19 Fed. R. Serv. 3d (Callaghan) 259 Headnotes: HN16 Followed by: 928 F.2d 1413 p.1423
Sort your Shepard's report to surface other insights.	The Sort by: box can re-sort your report by Analysis to display the citing cases with the most negative treatment phrases first, display the newest cases first, or surface the cases with the most discussion of your case.	 Sort by: Analysis (Red to Blue) Discussion (High to Low) Court (Highest to Lowest) Date (Newest to Oldest)

Be confident your research is current. Shepard's is continually updated as the law evolves. New cases, including treatment, are generally online within 24 – 48 hours of receipt.

Learn more at: www.lexisnexis.com/shepards.
Contact your LexisNexis representative.
Or call 888.253.3901.