HealthCare law is a dynamic practice area that is complex and constantly changing. Your clients look to your firm for counsel on a wide range of concerns—from Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement to new HIPAA guidelines, to issues of privacy, medical malpractice, managed care and everything in between. Your challenge is to stay on top of it all, so you can provide effective counsel inside and outside the courtroom.

At times, that challenge may seem daunting. However, with the vast healthcare resources that are available to you on LexisNexis™, you can keep on top of all the latest changes and developments in this dynamic area of law.

The HealthCare Practice Area Tab – One Easy-To-Use Resource

In one place, LexisNexis brings together the resources healthcare practitioners use most often. This tab gives you easy access to case law, statutes, rules, regulatory materials, legislation, reference guides, news and analysis from the best minds in the healthcare field. Plus, you have exclusive access to Shepard’s®, the premier citations service.

In-depth Analysis & Convenient References

When you need a comprehensive understanding of key healthcare topics, turn to the authoritative Matthew Bender® treatises, the American Health Lawyers Association Journal of Health Law and Bureau of National Affairs (BNA) reports. Chief among them are:

- Medical Records Privacy Under HIPAA
- CCH® CMS Program Manuals
- AHLA Journal of Health Law
- Treatise on Healthcare Law
- Long Term Care Advocacy
- The Law of Life & Health Insurance
- Attorney’s Textbook of Medicine
- BNA® Policy Report
- Medicare Report
- OSHA Reporter

Authoritative Coverage of HealthCare News

Staying current on developments in healthcare law and regulation is challenging. To aid you, LexisNexis offers you the most respected names in healthcare news, beginning with Mealey’s health and medical newsletters and Mealey’s litigation reports. While the newsletters cover a broad range of breaking news, the litigation reports focus on specific legal issues, providing you with case summaries, news articles, full-text court opinions, and commentaries. The Mealey’s reports include:

- Mealey’s Health Care Privacy Report
- Mealey’s Managed Care Liability Report
- Mealey’s Litigation Report: Nursing Home Liability
- Mealey’s Litigation Report: Fen-Phen/Redux
- Mealey’s Litigation Report: Diabetes Drugs
- Mealey’s Litigation Report: Disability Insurance
- Mealey’s Emerging Drugs & Devices

These exclusive Mealey’s resources are augmented by BNA’s Healthcare Daily, America HealthLine and FDC Health News Daily. And most recently, LexisNexis added a link to NewsRx. Ranked among the top 10 sites for “hot medical news,” NewsRx’s valuable database of online health reports provides business and consumer information related to drugs, chemicals, biotechnology, science, medicine and health.
Exclusive Online Access to CCH® Manuals, Guides & Reporters

LexisNexis also puts the entire library of CCH healthcare and human resources publications at your fingertips—more than 50 publications—including CMS Program Manuals. CCH provides timely coverage of state and federal laws, regulations, rulings and decisions on Medicare and Medicaid, Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law, CHAMPUS, healthcare fraud and abuse, home care providers, managed care, medical devices and other vital developments in the healthcare field.

For 60 years CCH has provided must-have information that sets the standard for healthcare research, compliance and management tools. Aside from CCH, it’s available online only from LexisNexis.

Broad Resources For Factual Discovery

To complement these core healthcare resources, LexisNexis offers a rich store of public records through which you can locate people, check civil and criminal records, examine assets and liens, and check bankruptcy filings. A link to The National Directory of Medical Licenses is particularly useful as a reference for determining if a doctor is appropriately licensed and in good standing.

Your Total Solution for HealthCare Law
