

LexisNexis® Electronic Fingerprint Services

A Total, Nationwide Solution to Help You Simplify the Capture and Submission of Electronic Fingerprints

If your hiring process involves fingerprinting, and you have been authorized to submit fingerprints to the FBI, you need a service that easily integrates with your other screening processes and offers coverage in regions that are critical to your business.

At LexisNexis® Screening Solutions, we understand and we can help. Our Electronic Fingerprint Services provide you with coast-to-coast, nationwide coverage to offer you and your candidates the most convenient process possible. Plus, you can mix and match the many components of our service offering to create a unique fingerprint solution that easily integrates with your broader background screening and drug testing processes to help streamline your hiring cycle.

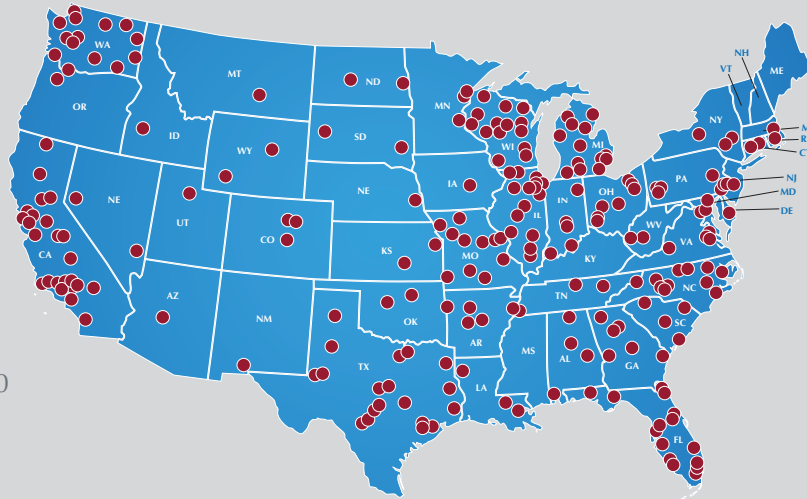

- Fully outsource your applicant and vendor fingerprint collection and submission, allowing you to easily integrate fingerprinting into your pre-employment screening process instead of including it as part of the post-hire, orientation process.
- Fingerprinting combined with drug testing offers your candidates the convenience of a “one-stop” collection site location.
- Capture and submit prints using our secure Web-based print management software, or use our vast nationwide network of experienced partners to capture prints.
- Create a centralized or decentralized solution to match your hiring process and organizational structure.
- Store prints with the ability to recapture, retransmit and submit to alternate clearinghouses and meet regulatory requirements.
- We offer the added capability to adjudicate results according to your guidelines and to reconcile the final dispositions of relevant arrest records (Note: requires FBI outsourcing approval).
