It’s time to really see your supply chain.

As supply chains become increasingly complex and companies with whom you do business require greater scrutiny, supply management professionals need to proactively monitor and assess risk in order to minimize supply chain disruption, prevent litigation and protect their corporate brand.

The LexisNexis® suite of Supply Management Solutions can help you go beyond traditional risk assessment to anticipate and minimize risk, evaluate suppliers, and make confident, informed decisions with a comprehensive, real-time, 360-degree view of your supply chain.

LexisNexis solutions tackle crucial aspects of supply chain management

LexisNexis® Supply Management Solutions help enable procurement and supply management professionals to proactively assess supplier risks beyond financial stress scores alone, perform a more in-depth evaluation and review of suppliers, and share timely updates across the enterprise. This means you can:

Gain a more comprehensive view of your suppliers

- Get better intelligence on your entire supply chain by going beyond just financial stress scores to leverage a wide range of content—including company information, public records, news, legal and regulatory content, and much more.
- Get a comprehensive understanding of the financial health of your suppliers—with Experian® commercial credit data and risk scores from LexisNexis SmartWatch® including:
  - Experian Financial Stability Risk Score™
  - IntelliScore Plus™
  - Experian® powered business reports
- Reveal key information—content is tagged by subject, industry, company and location, so it can surface relevant results, even when your supplier isn’t mentioned specifically.
- Capture financial, legal and business information on first-, second- and third-tier suppliers, even if they’re private or international entities.

Anticipate and manage risk

- Proactively monitor thousands of suppliers—in near-real time—for various types of risk events including political, economic, societal, technological, legal, and environmental.
- Ensure compliance by researching entities and their associated interests to identify any history of wrongdoing or bribery and avoid the legal penalties, costs and reputational damages associated with unethical business partners.
- Make more confident decisions about new suppliers through a consistent, defensible due diligence process by leveraging expansive content chosen specifically for due diligence.
- Take action to maintain continuity of service by tracking events such as financial distress, quality problems and other issues that could potentially impact your suppliers or their suppliers and sharing this information with staff.
Work more efficiently and effectively

- The LexisNexis suite of solutions work together to help you mitigate risk at multiple stages of your supply management workflow. From performing in-depth evaluations on new suppliers or periodic reviews on existing suppliers, assessing financial health of almost any entity, to monitoring your supply chain on an ongoing basis, you can feel confident you will have the comprehensive intelligence you need to develop effective mitigation strategies.
- Hit the ground running with easy-to-use tools that aggregate information from various sources and surface it in a way that is meaningful and actionable—no search or IT expertise necessary.
- Share important insights about your supply chain with easy-to-create distribution feeds or configure information into a variety of formats and/or alerts to accelerate and improve colleagues’ and team members’ understanding of supplier risk.

The LexisNexis suite of Supply Management Solutions

LexisNexis SmartWatch® takes you beyond standard risk awareness with a visual dashboard and alerting tools that let you proactively monitor thousands of suppliers across a range of risk categories. With this kind of market intelligence, you can quickly spot risk and respond with effective mitigation strategies.

Lexis® Diligence takes you beyond basic evaluation with a single interface that gives you access to archives and sources chosen specifically for deep due diligence, allowing you to perform deep evaluations on new suppliers or ad hoc checks of existing suppliers in response to specific concerns like negative news coverage.

LexisNexis® Publisher takes you beyond basic Web alerts with timely updates that you can configure, integrate and distribute across your entire enterprise.
