Product Spotlight: Lexis Practice Advisor®

Get a Head Start on Your Work with Valuable Legal Guidance
Tackle more work using the know-how found in the Lexis Practice Advisor® service. Rely on guidance, checklists and annotated forms from experienced attorney authors. These resources can help you gain a deeper understanding of a range of legal topics, so you can cover more ground and secure more clients.

You may recall an earlier article on Lexis® Legal Advantage regarding the potential dangers of Attorney Specialization. While it’s important to have expertise in specific practice areas, you can run the risk of becoming too niche and missing out on a big chunk of your local legal market. That’s why Lexis Practice Advisor can be such a valuable asset to your law firm.

Expand Your Knowledge Base
Get up to speed fast on new or rapidly developing areas of practice, helping you say yes to more new clients—and keep established clients satisfied with your service. You can leverage the authoritative practical guidance, checklists and practice notes from Lexis Practice Advisor to remain the trusted expert your clients count on.

Increase Your Efficiency
With sample forms and agreements, alternative clauses and handy checklists, the Lexis Practice Advisor service can save you hours of research and writing time—so you can turn the focus back on your legal work.

Even better, Lexis® Smart Forms use an intuitive questionnaire to help you begin the form drafting process. Your answers will auto-populate in the appropriate fields and give you a head start on your document creation.

Learn from Your Peers
Get advice from authorities of today. Lexis Practice Advisor delivers practical guidance from more than a thousand legal authors—click here to see who they are. The content is vetted and curated with attorneys like you in mind, to help you handle legal matters with confidence.

There’s also a handy Ask Our Authors feature in which you can get answers to some of your more nuanced legal questions.
Navigate by Practice Area

You can find what you’re looking for quickly, because the valuable resources within Lexis Practice Advisor are broken into intuitive practice areas. There are well over a dozen practice areas already, with more on the horizon. They cover a range of topics, from bankruptcy and litigation all the way to insurance and tax—and many others that are well-suited to specialized legal firms.

Inside each practice area you’ll find a wealth of resources dedicated to that specific topic, including time-saving forms, checklists and practice notes.

Accomplish More with Lexis Advance®

You can integrate your research and guidance when you include the Lexis Advance® service with Lexis Practice Advisor. You’ll seamlessly jump between the two tools to work even faster—researching, strategizing, drafting and analyzing all in single interface.
