You can scour over one thousand Elsevier® full-text medical journals and over ten thousand Netter medical images and illustrations. You can also use tools within Lexis Medical Navigator to assess potential case settlement value, plus locate, vet and prepare expert witnesses.

There are many features and capabilities within this powerful resource. To help you understand how they all work together to enhance your research, here's a video walkthrough of the Lexis Medical Navigator service presented by Laura Smith, a LexisNexis® litigation specialist.

Laura will demonstrate how to begin your research, and how to start exploring the vast content contained within the Lexis Medical Navigator tool. You'll also see firsthand how these documents and images can help you prepare your legal strategy. This video tour is designed to help you understand how easy it is to search for and locate resources relevant to your cases.
