

REEDFAX®

Expert document delivery services

Intellectual

Document delivery, professional searching and translation services—how and when you need them.

At REEDFAX®, you get timely, quality delivery and the best support in the industry. More than just order takers, our customer service representatives are there to consult with you on the best way to achieve your goals, help you with product questions and proactively keep you apprised of your order status.

Prior Art Searches

We conduct expert searching in any technology, novelty, validity, collection searches and more. REEDFAX makes full use of the resources available on lexis.com® along with other relevant databases. Our researchers are former USPTO examiners and registered patent agents who are well-versed in prior art searching and have many years of experience.

Estimates on cost and timing are given prior to any work commencing. Our search reports are written with the search strategy clearly stated. We provide expert commentary on the most relevant references. Delivery is both by e-mail and paper, with high-lighted copies of the references for your convenience.

Non-Patent Literature Retrieval & Delivery

More than just patents, REEDFAX offers full-service document delivery of scientific journals, magazine articles, book pages/chapters, government documents, engineering articles and more. Tell us what you want, and we locate and deliver it. It's that easy.

Patent & Trademark File Histories

Available quickly and easily, REEDFAX options include with or without cited references, parent cases or non-patent literature. All electronic files are bookmarked, and our paper copies are tabbed and bound. We have one of the largest private collections of patent file histories in the business.

Professional Translations

We support all languages and will notarize and certify the translator is skilled in the language. We specialize in the legal, pharmaceutical/medical, energy, chemical and software fields and have been providing all types of technical and business language services for more than five years.

Machine Translations

REEDFAX offers Machine Translations of Chinese, German, Japanese, Korean and Russian patent documents. Most are available quickly and offer significant savings over a professional manual translation.

U.S and International Patent Copies

We have nearly 10 million patents available for immediate delivery. E-mail, Internet download, CD-ROM or old-fashioned paper—we can handle any size order.
