Global Business Immigration Practice Guide

Alliance of Business Immigration Lawyers (ABIL); Stephen Yale-Loehr, General Editor

This Practice Guide is a one-stop resource for dealing with questions related to business immigration issues in immigration hotspots around the world. Written and edited by a global team of expert attorney-members of the ABIL, this comprehensive guide is designed to be used by:

- Human resources professionals and in-house attorneys who need to instruct, understand, and liaise with immigration lawyers licensed in other countries
- Business immigration attorneys who regularly work with multinational corporations and their employees and HR professionals
- Attorneys interested in expanding their practice to include global business immigration services

This publication provides:

- An overview of the immigration law requirements and procedures for over twenty countries
- Practical information and tips for obtaining visas, work permits, resident status, naturalization, and other nonimmigrant and immigrant pathways to conducting business, investing, and working in those countries
- A general overview of the appropriate options for a particular employee
- Information on how an employee can obtain and maintain authorization to work in a target country

Chapters are organized uniformly, making it easy to compare practices and procedures from country to country. Useful links to additional resources and forms are included. The expertise of ABIL’s attorney-members across the globe serve as an ideal starting point in your research into global business immigration issues.

Countries covered include:

- Australia
- Belgium
- Brazil
- Canada
- China

Immigration and Nationality Law: Problems and Strategies
Lenni B. Benson, Lindsay A. Curcio, Veronica Jeffers, Stephen W. Yale-Loehr

Intended for both attorneys and law students, this publication introduces the legal concepts and experience of practicing immigration law. Not only does it cover the statutory provisions and key immigration cases, but it also provides an understanding of the many government agencies involved in the immigration process and how to navigate the wide variety of adjudications central to the U.S. immigration system. It is designed to show the progression of immigration cases from initial sponsorship to admission at the border to permanent U.S. residence to naturalization. It also addresses the complex issues of determining inadmissibility, bars to entry or status, removal, relief from removal, and humanitarian relief.

J Visa Guidebook
Gregory H. Siskind, William A. Stock, Stephen Yale-Loehr

Your one-stop resource for dealing with questions related to the exchange visitor nonimmigrant visa program. Written by esteemed attorneys in this area, the J Visa Guidebook is a convenient guide covering the regulations on aliens and advising program sponsors how to comply with these regulations. It contains:
- A history of the exchange visitor program
- J-1 program designation process, including the sponsorship requirements for each exchange visitor category
- Necessary steps to secure the U.S. Information Agency’s approval of a J-1 program application
- Two-year home residence requirements and waivers
- Employment authorization, extension requests, changes in program categories

Featured Authors

Stephen Yale-Loehr teaches immigration law at Cornell Law School and is of counsel at Miller Mayer in Ithaca, New York. He holds a B.A. degree from Cornell University, and received his J.D. cum laude from Cornell Law School in 1981. He is a member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA), Business Immigration committee, and is a founding member of the Alliance of Business Immigration Lawyers Association (ABILA), a global consortium of top business immigration attorneys. He also founded and was the original executive director of Invest In the USA (IIUSA), a trade association of EB-5 immigrant investor regional centers. Frequently quoted in the press on immigration issues, he has often testified before Congress. He is also a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation, and is listed in Who's Who in America.

Ronald Y. Wada is senior counsel at Taft&Smith LLP, San Francisco. He specializes in preparing immigrant visa petitions for first preference extraordinary ability, outstanding researcher/professor, and multinational manager and executive categories as well as the second preference national interest waiver category, and the nonimmigrant O-1 visa category for individuals with extraordinary ability. He holds a J.D. degree from the University of Colorado, and a Ph.D. in Environmental Science & Engineering from UCLA. He has served on numerous national committees of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA). He was the recipient of AILA’s 2011 Edith Lowenstein Award for advancing the practice of immigration law, an AILA Presidential Commendation in 2006, and AILA’s Edward L. Duboff Memorial Award for Excellence in Research and Writing in the Field of Immigration Law. He has received the top AV Preeminent® rating for attorneys issued by Martindale-Hubbell®.

Dan Kowalski, a member of the Fowler Law Firm in Austin Texas, has been practicing immigration law exclusively since 1985. He is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin and received his J.D. from St. Mary’s Law School. In addition to his contributions to the print product line, Mr. Kowalski is also the online editor for LexisNexis® Immigration Law Community (ILC)/Bender’s Immigration Bulletin—Daily Edition. In 2010 Mr. Kowalski was named a “Senior Fellow” at the Institute for Justice Journalism. He is a member of IMMLAW, the National Consortium of Immigration Law Firms; Past Member, Board of Governors, American Immigration Lawyers Association; and Past Chapter Chair, Colorado Chapter of the American Immigration Lawyers Association.

Corporate Immigration Law: A Practitioner’s Guide
General Editors: Bettina Offer, Founding Partner, Offer & Mastmann; Shalini Agarwal, Partner, Clasis Law
Countries across the globe are increasingly imposing restrictions on the immigration of international workers. International corporations must be well-informed with regard to the socio-economic, political and geographic background of the host country, as well as the requirements and formalities to avoid costly delays to their projects. Corporate Immigration Law: A Practitioner’s Guide provides lawyers with a comprehensive resource for navigating international human resources management and comparative research on the immigration landscape. Covering twenty-nine countries, Corporate Immigration Law provides readers with a wealth of information on jurisdiction-specific corporate immigration laws. Written by practicing lawyers in each country, this two-volume set collates a concise overview of corporate immigration regimes and provides a useful tool for anyone seeking a better understanding of the field.
