

LexisNexis®

Shepard's®
on Lexis Advance®

DID YOU SHEPARDIZE®? IF YOU'RE NOT USING LEXISNEXIS® YOU DIDN'T.

STILL GOOD LAW

Take the case of one attorney who Shepardized™ a case and learned it had been overruled on one point of law but followed on the point of law she wanted to cite. Other citation services may have only flagged that the case had been overruled.

Shepard's® Citations Service is, and has been for generations, the best way to keep pace with authority. If you're not using Shepard's, you just might be missing something.

"It's impossible (for) competent counsel to use a case and not Shepardize it and not realize that the same case (had been) modified a year later."

—Mardirossian & Associates, Inc. v. Seth Ersoff

EXPERIENCED
ATTORNEY-EDITORS

TRUE POSITIVE
ANALYSIS

NEW CASES
EVERY 15 MINUTES

SHEPARD'S®—ICONIC, AUTHORITATIVE, UP TO DATE

Get the most comprehensive editorial analysis of cases & statutes—NEGATIVE, NEUTRAL and TRUE POSITIVE.

WARNING

Negative Treatment is Indicated

CAUTION

Possible Negative
Treatment

NEUTRAL

Citing References with Analysis Available

POSITIVE

Positive Treatment
is Indicated

Easily identify Splits of Authority with Shepard's "followed by" analysis

Shepard's attorney-editors are not just looking for negative treatments. They also identify when a case has been "followed" in whole or in part.

For example, United States v. Lee was overruled in part by United States v. Howze, but it was also followed by Howze on another point of law.

Shepard's lets you quickly see both treatments of Lee by Howze

Overruled in part by: 343 F.3d 919 p.924

Followed by: 343 F.3d 919 p.924

Exclusive Shepard's graphical tools present treatments of your case by courts or date

See at a glance when a case was treated positively by one court and negatively by another.

Citing Decisions: Analysis by Court

Warning (2)					2
Questioned (0)
Caution (6)					5
Positive (10)		1			6
Neutral (5)				2
Cited by (90)	2	4	2		56	4
	2nd Circuit (2)	4th Circuit (5)	5th Circuit (2)	6th Circuit (2)	7th Circuit (69)	8th Circuit (4)

Shepard's attorney-editors read and analyze case opinions—they don't rely on algorithms like competitive offerings do

Because Shepard's attorney-editors carefully read every case opinion included in a Shepard's report and are experts at identifying the subtle ways a court may refer to a case, they pick up nuanced treatments that a computer program may miss.

Shepard's attorney-editors read and analyze cases in detail for appellate history and treatment.

LexisNexis works hand in hand with courts to identify, clarify and correct substantive factual and legal errors in cases.

Shepard's links to over 1,000 treatises including Matthew Bender®, Sheshunoff® and A.S. Pratt® titles.

Fast, current and comprehensive

Shepard's analysis is completed around the clock by expert attorney-editors who read cases and apply a full spectrum of editorial phrases.

LexisNexis gathers opinions from over 1,000 case collection points.

Cases are received electronically from courts every 15 minutes.

Shepard's analysis and citations are uploaded every 15 minutes.