SWOT ANALYSIS:

FedEx offers overnight courier services, freight services, local delivery services, and transportation company. FedEx has a strong brand image. FedEx is the largest express company all over the world. Strong brand image besides driving domestic revenues, facilitates international expansion. However, the company is threatened from the growing popularity of internet, which could impact the mail volumes, resulting in lower revenues for the group.

STRENGTH:

- * Strong brand image
- * Large scale of operations
- * Efficient allocation of resources compared to its peers

Nexis Diligence™ Quick Start Tips

Introducing Nexis Diligence™—a platform for trust that makes good profit possible.

Featuring an intuitive interface connected to a comprehensive content universe, Nexis Diligence enables you to quickly conduct in-depth due diligence investigations.

Ready to get started? Use this guide for quick tips on performing Person or Company checks, reviewing results and using the Report Builder.

The screenshot shows the Nexis Diligence web application interface. At the top, there are links for 'Manage Alerts', 'Report Builder', and a user profile 'johnsmith'. The main navigation bar has 'Person Check' and 'Company Check' options, with 'Person Check' selected and highlighted by a red circle with a '1'. Below this, there is a search input field with a placeholder 'Enter a person name to begin your check', highlighted by a red circle with a '2'. To the right of the search field is a magnifying glass icon, highlighted by a red circle with a '5'. Below the search field, there is a checkbox labeled 'Do not show or include similar name matches in my search', highlighted by a red circle with a '3'. Below the checkbox is a link 'Less search options', highlighted by a red circle with a '4'. The bottom section of the interface is titled 'Terms' and contains four input fields with 'Add' buttons: 'Include ALL of these terms', 'Include THIS EXACT phrase', 'Include ANY of these terms', and 'Exclude these terms'. This entire section is highlighted by a red rectangle. The footer contains the LexisNexis logo, links for 'About LexisNexis', 'Privacy Policy', 'Cookies Policy', and 'Terms & Conditions', the copyright notice '© 2019 LexisNexis. All rights reserved.', and the RELX Group logo with version number 'v706'.

Perform Due Diligence Research on a Person or Company

- 1 Choose the type of search you want to perform, either Person Check or Company Check.
- 2 Enter the name of the entity you want to search. If you know additional information, such as an address or company/director name, also enter it in this field.

Note: You can also use this search box to search for other types of information, like a brand name, a hot topic keyword, a postal code, etc.
- 3 When searching for a person, toggle this option to view other names that are closely related to the name you entered. From the list that appears, clear those you don't want included in the search. (If you prefer an exact match, switch this option to 'off'.)
- 4 Click More search/less search options to fine-tune your search query with additional terms or phrases you want included or excluded.
- 5 Click Search to view your results.

View Your Results

When you first complete your search, a Snapshot of your results appears. The numbers in the pods indicate how many results were found for each category.

- 1 Click a category to view the full results list.
- 2 Select Hide Snapshot View to automatically go to the first category with results the next time you search.
- 3 Click Download Full Report to download all of the results or documents your search found. You can also drill down to specific results within each category pod.

The screenshot shows the 'Snapshot' view for a search on 'John Brooks'. The top navigation bar includes 'Nexis Diligence™', the search term 'John Brooks', and a dropdown menu set to 'Persons'. On the right, there are links for 'Manage Alerts', 'Report Builder', and a user profile 'johnsmith'. A 'Hide Snapshot View' checkbox is present, with a red circle 2 next to it. A blue button labeled 'Download Full Report' is also visible, with a red circle 3 next to it. The main area displays a grid of category pods with the following counts: Negative News (1048, with a red circle 1 next to the number), News (0), Company Sources (8896), Sanctions & Watchlists (2), Politically Exposed Persons, Biographical References & Directories, and Legal Source (16). Each pod has a download icon.

The screenshot shows the detailed results for 'John Brooks (1048)' under the 'Negative News' category. The breadcrumb trail is 'Home > Snapshot > Negative News'. The title is 'Results for Person check on: John Brooks (1048)'. Below the title is a 'FILTERS' section with buttons for 'Negative News', 'Source: Newsday (N...', and 'Date Range: Last year'. A 'Proximity of Negative Terms: Within the...' filter is also visible. On the left, a 'Categories' sidebar (with a red circle 4 next to the header) lists various categories with their counts: Negative News (1048, selected with a blue dot), News (3411), Company Sources (8896), Sanctions & Watchlists (2), Politically Exposed Persons (7), Biographical References & Directories (837), and Legal Sources (16). A red box highlights this sidebar, with a red circle 5 next to it. The main results area shows '1048 Results' and a toolbar with icons for selection, print, email, download, and document view. A red circle 6 is next to the toolbar. The first result is '1. Arrest report for 2-24-19' (with a red circle 8 next to the title), which is highlighted in yellow. Below the title, it shows 'The Commercial Dispatch (Columbus, Mississippi) | 445 words' and a snippet of text: '...AREA Arrest report for 2-24-19... was charged with conspiracy to commit a... with possession of stolen property. * Robbion... transfer of a stolen firearm. * Frank... charged with attempted assault - firearm discharge...'. A red circle 7 is next to the first result's checkbox.

- 4 Once you click a category, your results for that category appear.
- 5 Use the options on the left side to change categories or apply additional filters.
- 6 Use the delivery icons to share your results with others. You can download, print, or email them.
- 7 Choose the top checkbox to add all results or select individual checkboxes to add specific results to your report.
- 8 Click a document title to view the full document.

Work with Report Builder

- 1 Once you've selected and added documents to your report, click the Report Builder link at the top of the web page.
- 2 The report name uses your search term as its title. (You can change this by clicking the title and making your updates.)
- 3 Arrange the order of articles in the report by using the Move icon to drag each item to a new location.
- 4 Use Delete to remove documents from a report, and use Add Note to annotate a document you've added to the report.
- 5 When the report is ready, click Download Report.

The screenshot shows the Nexis Diligence Report Builder interface. At the top, the search bar contains 'John Brooks' and the 'Persons' filter is selected. The 'Report Builder' link is highlighted in the top navigation bar (callout 1). Below the search bar, a yellow banner states 'Documents expire 30 days after they are retrieved by your search.' with a 'Dismiss' button. The main section is titled 'Report Builder' and shows a report titled 'John Brooks' (callout 2) with a 'Download Report' button (callout 5). Below this, a section titled 'Negative News' displays a list of documents. The first document is 'Arrest report for 2-24-19' (callout 3), which is highlighted. To the right of each document, there are 'Delete' and 'Add Note' links (callout 4). The interface also includes icons for printing, emailing, and downloading documents.

Top Features of Nexis Diligence™

Safeguard your organization's reputation and manage risk with one-stop access to critical business information.

Nexis Diligence™ can help you mitigate business risk by making it easier to vet and monitor clients, agents, partners, suppliers, investments, and other third parties in a quick and comprehensive manner.

Global content and simple fill-in-the-blank search fields let you significantly reduce the time and expense of conducting comprehensive background checks. You can research entities, explore associated entity interests, check for red flags, and develop an entity profile with ease.

1 Perform due diligence research on a company or person

With hundreds of sources at your fingertips, you can perform your due diligence research on a company or individual and be assured the search covers all the bases. Through the improved search form, we make every effort to help you enter exactly the right search query, and even provide default preferences to help ensure you find the most relevant results.

2 Review the latest news about a company or person, and focus exclusively on negative news

When searching its thousands of news sources, Nexis Diligence categorizes the results as both standard news and negative news. To help make this distinction between the two types of news, Nexis Diligence lets you decide what actually constitutes negative news: in User Preferences, you can view our curated list of negative terms and choose which ones you want to include by default in your news searches, and you can also add your own terms.

3 Use a full set of tools to review your research

By default, when you perform your search, your results are displayed as a Snapshot of the different categories of information. Using these categorized links, you can drill down into specific results, focusing on just the information you're most interested in.

4 Check sanctions, regulatory lists, law enforcement watchlists, and politically exposed persons (PEPs) lists

Search results are categorized so you can quickly view if a person or company you are researching has been sanctioned or added to a watchlist. You can also identify whether a person or company is listed as a PEP.

5 Review a person or company's litigation history through legal case data

Understanding an entity's legal history is an important step in your due diligence process. Using Nexis Diligence, you can view all legal documents for an entity, including cases, dockets (federal and state), verdicts, and so forth. User preferences lets you focus your searches on a specific date range.

6 Verify key company information

Nexis Diligence can help you verify a company's registered address, directors' names, business description, location, and biographical data. This information, which is found under Company Sources, can help you verify the entity you are researching.

7 Assess financial health for U.S.-based companies

With access to Experian® business data and risk scores, you can review a U.S. company's financial health.

8

Use Report Builder to create comprehensive reports about your entities

Report Builder makes sharing your research results even easier. Once you've collected all the documents you need into one central report, you can add notes to help explain or summarize the finer details of your research. You can also organize the report's contents so the most important data appears first. A research summary at the end of the report provides an audit trail of how you conducted your research.

Have access to your research history

Nexis Diligence keeps a history of searches you perform, along with information about how the search was performed and the number of results that were found, based on the result category you viewed. You can rerun a search from History anytime during the 30 days after your initial search.
