Context Judge Analytics

Know the language. Write a persuasive motion.

What if you could get inside the mind of your judge and know how and why they ruled on a case the way they did? Using advanced technology, Context Judge Analytics deploy language analytics across tens of millions of Lexis Advance® case law documents to examine judge opinions and motions, allowing you to view the specific logic behind a judge's decision to grant or deny more than 100 motion types. Build arguments using language that has been proven to resonate with your judge.

START YOUR JUDGE RESEARCH

Begin with a simple judge search. Type in the name of the judge, and the Context search word wheel will display all judges along with the court in which they preside.

FIND AND USE THE WORDS A JUDGE WANTS TO HEAR

Select a judge to get a full picture of their experience, including an analytical deep dive into their motion outcomes and citation patterns, so you can pinpoint the language, precedents and even other judges a judge finds most compelling.
Craft Your Most Persuasive Argument

Words matter. Your litigation is riding on the arguments you make in your brief or present in court. Now, with Context Judge Analytics, you can uncover critical litigation intelligence to build better briefs and oral arguments using the specific language that has been proven to persuade your judge.

Discover:

- Arguments your judge used in granting or denying 100 different motion types, so you’ll have confidence in your arguments, whether they are written or delivered in court

- How likely you are to prevail with reports on the grant and denial rates for your judge on the same 100 motion types in one easy-to-read graph

- Fellow jurists your judge cites most often, to help you feel confident that your judge is comfortable with the theories you espouse

- Opinions most cited by your judge—including his own—so you know you’re on more solid ground in making your case

- Deep background—no searching needed with all available Lexis Advance documents from your subscription about the judge compiled under the Documents tab - Think of how many searches you won’t have to enter
