Featured Tip

Quickly Find Specific Sources with the A to Z List

The LexisNexis Academic A to Z List gives you a powerful tool to find and access the thousands of news, business, and legal titles offered through LexisNexis Academic.

Each publication is listed by title and publisher and classified according to the type of publication (newspaper, blog, journal, etc.) and by language, geography, industry and topic. By sorting or filtering the A to Z List, you can quickly find all of the tax and accounting titles available, see how many French language publications we have, or develop a checklist for doing international legal research.

The A to Z List also provides direct links to a search form on LexisNexis Academic with the selected source already filled in. Simply click on the Title Level URL to access any individual source for searching. The List also provides one-click access to the publication's source guide. The source guide offers an overview of each publication and a brief description of its content and coverage.
