

Top 10 Nexis Uni™ Features to Explore

1 Search across all content types in a single search

Nexis Uni™ offers a search experience familiar to Millennials—broad searching across all content types. Start your search on Nexis Uni using the top search box and with a single-click search across all content types. Or, you can select specific content categories, topics or favorite sources.

A TIP: Use connectors to get more relevant results. When searching in Nexis Uni, a space is an implied “OR” between two terms. This is different than LexisNexis Academic, where a space was an implied “AND” connector.

2 Conduct advanced searches

For the more experienced researcher, Nexis Uni offers several Advanced Search templates. For example, selecting the News category in Advanced Search provides options to search by document segment. Document segments include headline, title, lead sections, publication, date, section, publication type, company name and classification. Searching by document segment can be helpful in finding specific results.

TIP: There are Advanced Search forms for numerous content categories, including news, company and financial, directories and legal content.

The screenshot shows the top of the Nexis Uni website. The search bar is prominent with a red circle containing the number '1' next to it. To the right of the search bar are links for 'History', 'Help', and 'Hi Sara'. Below the search bar, there are links for 'Advanced Search', 'Tips', and 'Get a Doc Assistance'. A magnifying glass icon and the text 'All Nexis Uni' are also visible.

This screenshot shows two sections of the search interface. The 'Terms' section, marked with a red circle '2', includes four input fields: 'All of these terms', 'Any of these terms', 'This exact phrase', and 'Exclude these terms', each with an 'Add ↑' button. Below this is the 'Document Segments/Fields' section, which includes input fields for 'Headline', 'Title', 'Headline and Lead Sections', and 'Publication'. A note states: 'While these segments apply to the majority of documents, they may not apply to all documents.'

The 'Use Connectors' section, marked with a blue circle 'A', lists several search connectors and their functions:

- " " Exact phrase
- and 2 or more words anywhere in the document (alternative: &)
- or Include one or more words
- and not Exclude documents containing the word or phrase; should be the last connector, or may produce unexpected results
- /n First word within "n" words of the second (alternative: w/n or near/n)
- ! Word variations using this as the root word (alternative: *)

A link at the bottom says 'View all connectors and commands' with an external link icon.

This section, titled 'Or let us help you find it...', provides a guided search experience. It includes a 'What are you interested in?' section with buttons for 'News', 'Cases', 'Law Reviews', 'Company Info', and 'A Publication'. Next to it is an 'Enter Search Term' input field with the placeholder text 'Enter keywords or subjects'. To the right is a 'Choose date range' dropdown menu with 'All available dates' selected. A blue 'Search' button is positioned to the right of the date range.

3 Filter using facets

Once you run a search, you can use post-search filters, or facets, to narrow down your results set to the most relevant documents. Multiple filters can be applied, and they can easily be removed without needing to re-run the search.

Clicking on the arrow next to the filter type will show the options available for your results set. The facets available to filter by include: Location (location of the source), Publication Type, Subject, Industry, Geography (geographical region relevant to the content), Timeline, Sources, Practice Areas & Topics, People and Keyword.

B TIP: Click on Select Multiple and a pick list will appear for quickly checking off the relevant attributes to include.

C TIP: Adjust the timeline filter from the calendar or by moving the slider bar to adjust the date range.

4 Annotate a document

Once in a document view, you have the ability to add and save annotations. Simply select the text you wish to highlight or annotate and you will be given the option to add the selected text to a folder, add the text to your search, annotate or highlight.

D TIP: Once notes have been added to a document, they will appear on the right hand side under the Notes tab.

E TIP: Check out the Printer Friendly View for a clear, condensed view of the full document.

5 Look for the reading glasses

Keeping track of which documents you have viewed in your research can be tricky, but Nexis Uni can help. Once you have viewed a document, a pair of eye glasses will appear next to the document in the results list. If you saved the document to a folder, a folder icon will also appear.

F TIP: Hover over the glasses to see when the document was last viewed.

The 'Publication Type' facet is expanded, showing a list of options with counts: Newspapers (1,644,959), News-wires & Press (577,298), Releases (376,769), Video (171,343), Web-based Publications (148,696), and News (148,696). A red circle '3' highlights the 'Select multiple' link. On the right, a list of search results is shown, with a red circle 'B' highlighting the 'Sources' section. The 'Sources' section lists various news organizations and their document counts, such as 'Global Broadcast Database - English (Full Text) (163,116)' and 'The Associated Press (120,513)'. A red circle 'C' highlights the timeline filter, which shows a calendar and a bar chart for the year 2017.

6 Add a document to a folder

From within the document view, you can also save the document to one or more folders. Additionally, you can email a link, download or send the document to Dropbox.

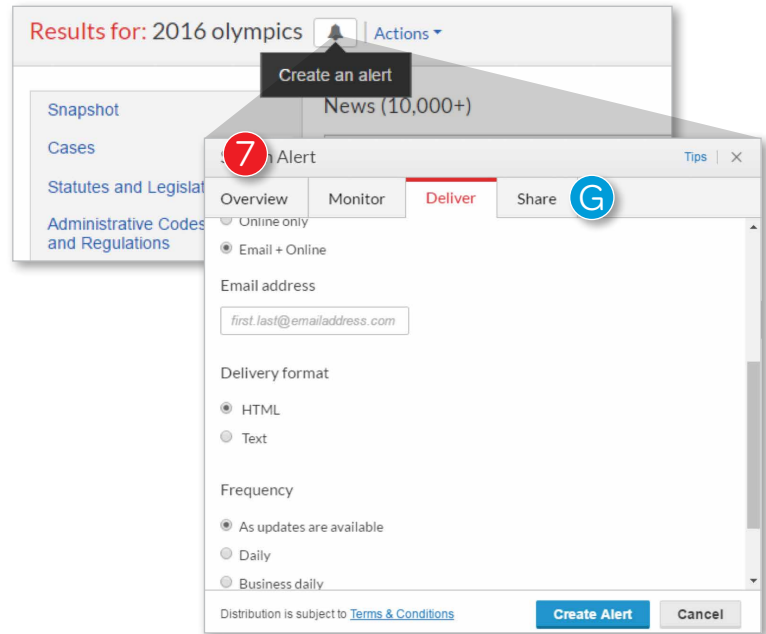

7 Set and share Alerts

For some topics, you may wish to set an Alert so you can be notified when new results are available. Alerts can be set on searches or on publications. To set an Alert on a search you have conducted, simply click the Alert icon from the results view.

From there, you will be prompted to name the Alert, as well as set the frequency and other specifics.

G TIP: You can also share an Alert that you have created by simply entering the email address of the Nexis Uni user you wish to share the Alert with. Alerts results can only be accessed by Nexis Uni users.

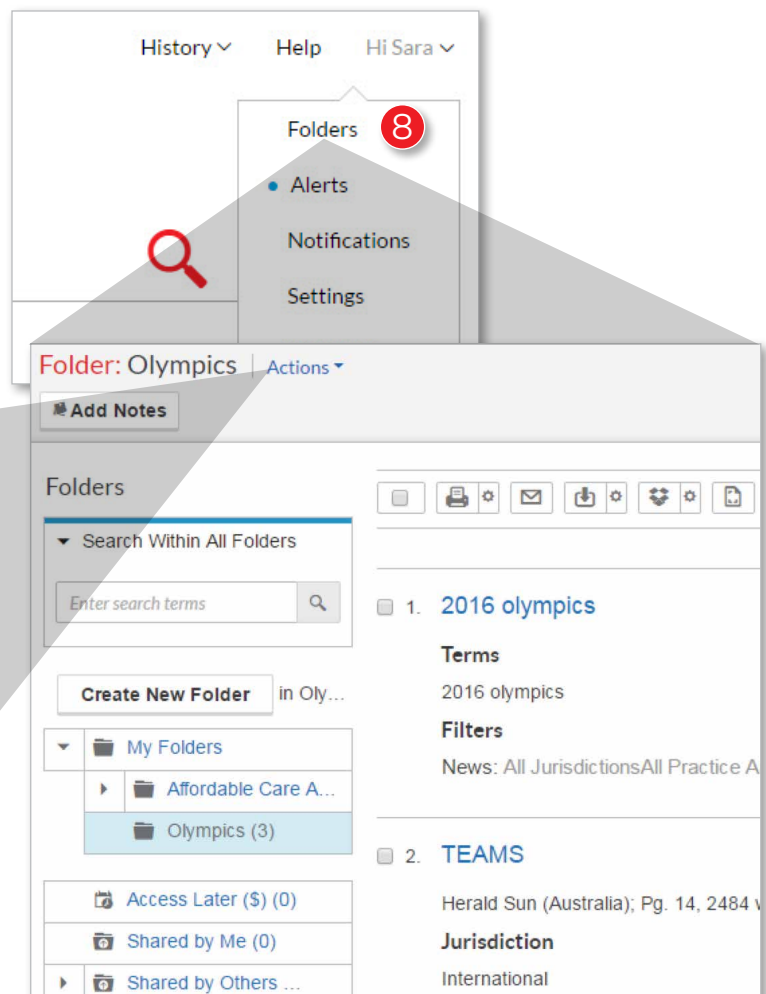

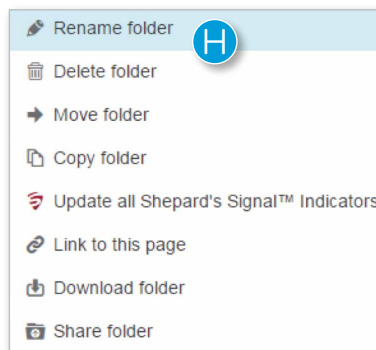

8 Create and share folders

Folders are helpful for organizing and sharing relevant documents. You can create folders for various topics, projects or classes. You can quickly access your folders by clicking on Folders from the drop down in the navigation bar.

Once in the Folder view, you can see folders you created, folders you shared and folders shared by others.

Clicking on a folder will show the documents, searches or text that has been saved to that folder.

H TIP: Under Actions you can rename, delete, move or share a folder. Similar to Alerts, only an email address is needed to share a folder, but to access the folder the individual must be a Nexis Uni user. When you share a folder, the end receiver will receive an email letting them know that you have shared a folder with them. They will have 30 days to accept the share invitation.

9 Tag favorite sources

At various points in your research, you may desire to only search a select number of sources. Saving sources to your Favorites can help quickly select these sources of interest. To favorite a source, type the source name into the red search box and select the source you desire from the list of suggested matches.

Selecting the source will add it as a filter to your search. At that time, you can click the star to add to your favorites.

Recently used and favorite sources can be accessed by clicking on the drop-down arrow within the red search bar and then selecting Recent & Favorites. Simply click on the source or sources you wish to include in your search.

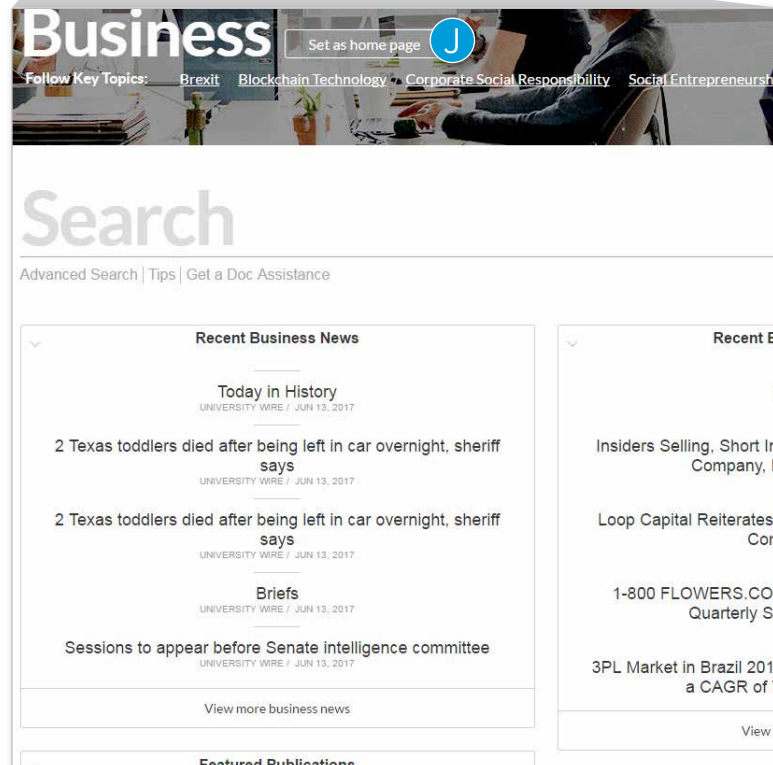

1 TIP: Recent sources that appear in this list can be added to favorites simply by clicking on the star next to the source name. Those with red stars are favorites; those without are recent sources.

10 Take advantage of discipline pages

In addition to offering broad and advanced searching, Nexis Uni has developed discipline pages to help students begin their research. Currently, discipline pages for Business, Political Science and Criminal Justice are available, with more being added in the future.

The discipline pages are designed to curate relevant topics, sources, tasks and documents pertinent to students within that area of study.

1 TIP: A discipline page can be set as a home page by clicking the Set as Homepage button.
