advancing what's possible

Find, track and manage critical city and county ordinances with LexisNexis® State Net®

Don't put your organization at risk by ignoring local government activity.

With local government being more active in the business space, a local ordinance or rule from any city or town across the country could have a dramatic impact on your clients or organization. Cities and counties are now having to address minimum wage issues, paid sick leave, data privacy, immigration, consumer protection, just to name a few.

But how to go about that? Keeping tabs on the happenings in city halls and county government is nearly impossible; even if you did find the right website, finding the actual proposals and laws is difficult and time consuming.

With State Net® you have the resources and tools you need to monitor and manage city and county activity to help you confidently assess the impact to your organization, influence proposed matters, prepare for upcoming changes and deliver meaningful information to your stakeholders.
