

The world's Leading Companies Rely on LexisNexis® State Net®

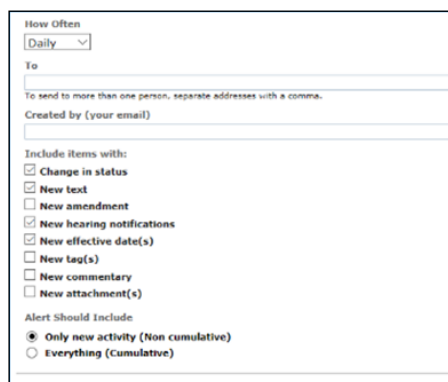

Unmatched State Net® content, technology and expertise, along with our world-class analytics and customer service, help ensure that our customers never miss important information.

The escalating regulatory environment has created an evolving landscape of liabilities for businesses worldwide. Keeping track of changing regulations is imperative to keep your company in compliance with these changes. With the sheer quantity of information produced at every level of government, you need next-generation technology and unmatched, enhanced data to stay ahead and stay compliant.

Stay Alert

Staying up to date on changing regulations is critical. If a proposed rule is missed, you may be exposing your business to risk. That is why we make sure your regulatory team has sufficient notification so you can act on new proposals and make changes to your strategy.

- Access state and federal regulations with one click; proposed and adopted.
- Know when and how new laws impact existing statutes.
- Have comment deadlines and effective dates calculated so you don't have to.

Stay Informed

Managing the constant flow of information, understanding what is important to your company and the potential implications is a daunting task. Benefit from the efficiency that comes from our analysts' summaries, our intelligent search technology and advanced filters that can pinpoint only the regulations you need to access.

- Review summaries written by our experts to easily understand a bill's relevance to your organization.
- Get insights on why a bill was signed or vetoed that you can't typically find on state legislative websites.
- Know when proposals match your profile and tag for tracking.

State Net provides meaningful, easy-to-understand titles for bills and regulators, as well as summaries.

Stay Compliant

The State Net reporting team turns raw, scattered data into knowledge you can use. Experienced analysts monitor a multitude of sources to update regulatory affairs and compliance professionals not with mere filing notifications, but also with accompanying intelligence and insights to help you make informed decisions.

- Obtain the very latest on statutes, administrative codes, guidance materials and federal agency documents directly into your GRC application through the State Net XML data feed and Lexis Advance® API
- Monitor regulations for compliance purposes or to participate in the process
- Link directly to existing statutes within the Lexis Advance service, allowing you to see how new bills will affect current laws.

State Net standardizes text markups for each state, making it easier to review and understand changes.

Rely on the technology and services that the world's leading companies, associations and law firms trust for reliable and timely information that is enhanced with our 50 years of expertise, next-generation technology and world-class customer service.
